Courts pledge tighter control of criminals

Madison County courts plan less reliance on conditional discharge, a form of unsupervised probation, court officials indicated at a meeting Monday of the Crime Prevention and Control Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Conditional discharge will be utilized, but "judiciously," it was explained.

"It was something new that we tried for a while and found not too much point in using," a judge said, adding that probation gives better supervision and control of those convicted of criminal acts but not imprisoned.

A Press-Record article March 25 told of a one-year span in which a Granite City man was implicated in seven burglaries. He had pleaded guilty to a reduced charge in the first case and was sentenced to serve one year of conditional discharge, during which he was not required to report to a probation officer.

Some at this week's meeting questioned the accuracy of the article, but it was verified in a re-check of records yesterday. Thurl Jones, chief probation officer for Madison County, told the Press-Record Wednesday that the article had had some positive effects.

"We took a real hard look at our procedures, from the probation department to the state's attorney's office and even the courts, to make sure there are no errors in our procedures which could allow such problems to crop up again," Jones said.

"Back then, unconditional discharge was not monitored by the probation department. Now it is."

In about October or November, we began assigning new conditional discharges to a probation officer to monitor. "At the end of the discharge period, he will review each case. If there are no offenses, he will recommend that the court dismiss the discharge," Jones explained.

"He is attempting to expand the types of discussions held at the Chamber committee meeting here this week. He noted that a meeting with representatives and court officials is scheduled for May 6."

State's Attorney Nicholas Byron said at the committee meeting that "the Tri-Cities area is blessed with the finest police forces I am acquainted with."

"They traditionally operate above and beyond the call of duty."

He said that more people were sent to the penitentiary in 1975 than ever before, and that the conviction rate in Madison County is unusually high.

Several urged a positive approach toward law enforcement effectiveness, with as much media emphasis as possible on instances where a wrongdoer is arrested, convicted and placed behind prison bars.

It was commented at the meeting that "too many young people seem to believe they can commit a crime without a penalty."

Jones and judges present said

Fatal truck crash

George Salisbury, 63, of Pevely, Mo., was injured fatally and his son, Arthur Salisbury, 37, of Bloomsdale, Mo., was hurt seriously when their semi-tractor and flatbed trailer went out of control on the exit ramp from westbound Interstate 270 to southbound Route 111, skidded off the ramp and overturned at 2:45 p.m. Monday.

George Salisbury was removed after a hydraulic jack and a wrecker tore open the passenger side of the cab. He was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, arriving at 3:20 p.m. He died at 4:15 p.m. with multiple injuries including possible internal injuries.

His death was the first traffic fatality in the Quad-City area this year, compared to five accident deaths at the same time last year.

He had cuts to his head, abrasions and deformities to his left ribs, fractures of his left leg and right wrist and abrasions to both arms.

Rescue workers broke the windshield out of the cab and removed the driver nearly 15 minutes after his father. He was taken by ambulance to the hospital where he was treated for a five-inch cut over his left eyebrow, abrasions to his face, both arms and both legs and a broken right leg. He was transferred at 4:30 p.m. Monday to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis.

A witness told Illinois State Police troopers that the west-bound truck had just passed him in the passing lane and attempted the turn to exit from the passing lane.

The truck apparently was

Cumulative vote dates from 1870

(31st of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)
The first two of Illinois' four state constitutions were enacted in 1818, the year the state was created, and in 1848.

By the outbreak of the Civil War it was clear that the Illinois constitution of 1848 had been written for totally different times and that the government could not operate for even a month without violating it.

The extreme partisanship of the convention of 1862 doomed to failure its efforts to prepare a more elastic and positive document.

With the close of the war, interests reappeared which nature subordinated.

Religion, public education, woman suffrage, organized labor and industrial regulation became topics of governmental concern.

The constitution of 1848 could not support the political forces attendant upon these issues.

Another attempt to rewrite the constitution began when 85 delegates met in Springfield on Dec. 13, 1869.

They generally agreed upon the need to centralize state power and to turn the state into a more rational and cohesive unit by producing a new constitution.

Under the constitution of 1848, corporations were chartered by "special legislation" rather than under a general law setting uniform standards.

The practice produced thousands of so-called "private

Robbers fire shotgun

Quad-City police are investigating two unrelated robberies Monday night, the first at 9:40 p.m. at the Lone Acres Tavern, 26th Street and Edwardsville Road, and the second at 10:20 p.m. Monday at Williams' Clark service station, Pontoon Road and Breckenridge Lane in Pontoon Beach.

Three young men, each armed with a shotgun, entered the Lone Acres Tavern, which was taken from the package liquor section and was placed in the pillow cases.

A quantity of liquor also was taken from the package liquor section and was placed in the pillow cases.

Four patrons in the tavern then were robbed. They took the purse of Mary Dutko of Granite City which contained $150 cash, a $500 check, credit cards and her identification.

The wallet of Charlotte Stearns of Venice also was taken. It contained $25 and identification papers.

About $30 cash, a wristwatch and identification papers were taken from William Belfort of Edwardsville, and John Honchak of Edwardsville reported he was struck on the head, possibly with a shotgun, and about $150 cash was taken from him.

The patrons then were told to remain on the floor and Mrs. Du Bay was told to go into the restroom and remain there. The robbers then left with two pillowcases filled with loot. A third pillowcase was left in the tavern.

On the way out, one of the three took the television from the bar and carried it out with him. Moments later, the barmaid came out of the restroom and informed a customer waiting at the drive-through window that the tavern had just been robbed.

The customer said he just saw a man waiting in a green 1968 Oldsmobile on the parking lot which left south on Edwardsville Road. He tried to catch up with the car, but lost sight of it.

Mrs. Du Bay said one of the three robbers had been in the tavern about two hours earlier and had asked to use the restroom. Upon returning from the washroom, he purchased a canned soft drink and left.

She said one of the robbers apparently cut himself as there was blood on her blouse and in the doorway.

One robber was described as young, about 6 feet tall, slender, having a short Afro hairstyle and neatly dressed in a brown and white shirt and brown slacks.

The second robber also was young, about 5 feet, 10 inches

2 on cycle die

Two local residents were injured fatally when the motorcycle they were riding collided head-on with a car on Route 266 (Edwardsville Road) near the crossing light in front of the Granite City Steel blast furnace division at 10:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Dead are Robert C. Stephens, 29, of 4036 Bruene Drive, Pontoon Beach, the driver, and a passenger, Miss Jeanette Walton, 23, of 2 Paul Drive, Mitchell.

Witnesses said their east-bound motorcycle was in the passing lane when traffic in both east-bound lanes stopped.

The motorcycle skidded to avoid striking the cars, but went out of control. It crossed the center line and was involved in an accident with the oncoming car of John W. Gresham Jr., 23, of 1028 Courtenay Blvd., which was in the westbound passing lane.

The motorcycle went under the front of the car and both of those on the cycle were thrown about 30 feet to the north shoulder of the roadway.

Mr. Stephens was pronounced dead at the scene at 10:30 p.m. Tuesday by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner.

Miss Walton was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where she was examined for head injuries and a large cut to her head. She was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, where she died at 12:30 a.m. Wednesday.

Madison County sheriff's deputies questioned several witnesses, including Gresham and four passengers in his auto.

They noted that all those questioned were in agreement on how the collision occurred.

Born in East St. Louis, Mr. Stephens moved to the Quad-Cities four years ago.

He was employed as a typesetter for nine years by the Regal Typography Co., St. Louis, and was a member of St. Louis Typographical Union, Local 8.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Christine (Featherston) Stephens; two sons, Jason Stephens, two and a half years, and five-month-old Toby Stephens; his mother, Mrs. Jane Warren, East St. Louis, and father, Robert H. Stephens, St. Louis and a half-brother, Frank Warren III, East St. Louis.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at a Belleville funeral home. Burial will be at Lakeview Memorial Gardens, Belleville.

A lifelong resident of the Quad-Cities, Miss Walton had been employed for a year as a key punch operator for the And Yale Farms Dairy Co.

She was a member of the Full Gospel Tabernacle in Fairview Heights.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert (Charles) Walton, a brother, Hal Walton, and two sisters, Miss Allan (Landon) Stockert and Miss Cheryl Ann Walton, all of Granite City; and grand-

Car made a bit too compact

Taking someone's car and having it crushed at a junkyard is not a proper solution for its ailments.

That's the thrust of a court action filed this week by Attorney General William J. Scott, through his Consumer Protection Division, against a Springfield auto body service.

Mrs. Arlene Kellogg of Springfield left her 1968 Ford Custom with Eads Auto Body to have its appearance improved. When she tried to retrieve her car, she discovered it had been compacted into a small package

Spence-Frazier nuptials at St. Peter's Church

St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ was the scene of the wedding on April 12 of Miss Barbara Joanne Frazier and Kevin Philip Spence.

The Rev. Robert Kettelhut officiated at the 7:30 evening candlelight ceremony. The bride wore a wedding ring previously worn by her mother and grandmother.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. William Frazier, reside at 2532 Lincoln Ave. The groom is a son of Mrs. Gloria Spence, 3602 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Philip Spence, 3875 Rodney Drive.

Guitar music was played throughout the service, by Douglas Stephens and Gregory Spence, a brother of the groom. Gregory Spence also sang "The Wedding Song" and "There Is Love."

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Frazier chose an off-white linen gown, featuring a scoop neckline, fitted bodice, accented with lace, and a high rise waistline. Matching lace headpiece trimmed the long, full sleeves and skirt, the latter encircled with a gathered flounce.

She wore a lace headpiece to secure a fingertip off-white veil and carried a white bride's Bible, a gift from her father, topped with yellow and white daisies.

Mrs. Mollie Johnson, a sister of the groom, was matron of honor. She also wore an off-white sleeveless linen dress with a scoop neckline, complemented by a matching jacket and yellow ribbon headpiece.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of yellow and white daisies and white lilies.

Lighting the candles was Miss Peggy Spence, a sister of the groom. She was groomed in similar style to the honor attendant.

The groom was attended by Tom Graf as best man. Mark Spence and John Johnson, a brother and brother-in-law of the groom, seated the guests.

A reception was held in the home of the bride couple, 1741 Poplar St., after the service. They are now at home after a wedding trip to Kentucky Lake at Murray, Ky.

Mrs. Frazier, mother of the bride, was attired in a coral knit full-length gown, featuring a mandarin neckline, high waist and A-line skirt.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Spence, appeared in an off white pant suit, enhanced with a yellow and green embroidered design on the jacket. Both wore corsages of yellow rosebuds.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Patricia Thomas, a sister of the bride and Miss Janice Biggs. Another sister of the bride, Mrs. Georgia Duncan, attended the guest book. Music was played during the evening by Douglas Stephens, Gary Hudson and Gregory Spence.

A 1973 graduate of Granite City High School, the bride was employed at Chromoloy Photographics in the art department. She also attended special art classes at Colorado State College, Colorado Springs, Colo., during the fall and winter sessions and worked at The Next Door Restaurant there.

The groom was graduated in 1968 from South High School. He is now employed as a painter by the Granite City Street Department.

Out-of-town guests were Miss Pearl Southard of Edwardsville and Mr. and Mrs. George Southard of Cottage Hills, an uncle and aunt of the bride.

St. John Lutheran Holy Week

St. John Lutheran Church, St. Clair and Dale avenues, will hold a tenebrae service at 7 o'clock Friday evening. Meditations on "The Seven Last Words of the Lord" with the extinguishing of candles as each word spoken from the cross is repeated, will be part of the service, the Rev. Samuel Boda announced.

A color filmstrip, "The Redeemed," taken from the series, "In Our Stead," depicting the crucifixion, will be shown. The organist will be Miss Ellen Boda, a junior student at Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill.

Early service at Madison Baptist

Special Easter sunrise services will be held at 6:30 a.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church, Fifth Street and Ewing Avenue, Madison, the Rev. Paul Davis, host pastor, announced today.

The annual service is rotated each year between the First Baptist and Temple Baptist Church, located at 714 McCambridge Ave., Madison. The host church will provide special music and refreshments following the early morning service.

The Rev. Jack L. Gouy, pastor of Temple Baptist Church, will be the speaker. Both pastors invite the public to attend the Easter worship service.

Regular services at both churches also will take place Sunday, with Bible study at 9:30 a.m. and morning worship at 10:30 a.m.

Trinity Methodist sunrise service

The youth of Trinity United Methodist Church, 1015 E. 11th St., will conduct Easter sunrise services at 6:30 a.m. Sunday.

A musical drama, entitled "The Sermon," will be presented by the young people, and special music will be provided by the Youth Choir.

A continental breakfast will be served following the early service. All area residents are invited to attend.

Easter plans at Hope Lutheran

"The New Hopes," a youth group from Hope Lutheran Church, will serve Easter breakfast from 7 to 10 a.m. Sunday at the church.

The menu will consist of pancakes, sausage, orange juice and coffee. Tickets, costing $1 for children under 11 years, $1.50 for adults and $6 for families, are now being sold by the members.

Sunrise services will be held at 7 a.m. Sunday at the Wilson Park rink pavilion and worship services will be held at the church at 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m., according to Pastor David Fielding.

Both the Adult and Rolling Lords choirs will sing at the 10:30 service. Sunday School will be conducted at 9 a.m., the Rev. Fielding added.

Lebanon minister to speak in Alton

The Rev. Elias Malbi, of Lebanon, will be the featured speaker at 7 p.m. Saturday at a meeting of the Greater Alton Chapter of Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship International, club officers announced.

All denominations are invited to attend the session to be held at the Steelworkers Abel Hall, 2821 East Broadway, Alton.

Rev. Malbi was reared in this country in 1932 where he attended a Bible college in 1955. He then returned to Lebanon in 1959 to become a full time evangelist

Gunpowder explodes, man burned

Frank J. Wells, 21, of 732 East Chain of Rocks Road, Mitchell, was injured when a can of gunpowder near him exploded in his back yard at 7:50 p.m. Monday.

Wells told Madison County sheriff's deputies he was in his back yard showing a friend different ways white powder and black powder burn when a spark apparently came into contact with a one-pound can of gunpowder and it exploded.

He suffered burns to both hands and arms and to the right side of his face. He also suffered a puncture wound to his chest. X-rays were taken and he was admitted.

Drainage funds added to Nameoki highway budget

The Nameoki Town Board of Auditors added $15,000 to the township's general road and bridge budget for drainage purposes during the board's regular meeting Monday night.

A request that the money be added was made during a public hearing on the road budgets March 30 by Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whitsell who predicted there would be about $15,000 in surplus funds at the end of the fiscal year unless a drainage item was added.

The board members agreed the money will be budgeted and will be spent for drainage, if available.

The board also agreed to transfer $1,200 from utilities to rental in the road and bridge budget to help pay the township for use of the town garage and storage shed.

The highway budgets totaling $228,550 were approved by the board after the changes were made. The new totals for each budget are: general road and bridge, $108,500; permanent road fund, $110,000; and $10,000 for municipal retirement.

The township's town fund, general assistance and revenue sharing budgets are being prepared and will be available at the board's next meeting April 26, when they will be posted for public inspection for 30 days.

The board discussed the possibility of appropriating about $10,000 in the new budgets for a telephone program for senior citizens, but some members expressed feelings the program would be difficult to begin.

A similar program is underway in Collinsville township where two full-time workers telephone senior citizens daily to inquire about their health and needs and to give them someone to talk to.

In another issue related to the budgets, Township Attorney H. Carl Runge offered a written legal opinion that the board could not legally honor a request to appropriate $3,000 of revenue sharing funds for a contingency fund which would be made available to the Pontoon Beach branch of Coordinated Youth Services, should that branch run out of money.

In his opinion, Runge noted such funds could be appropriated only for specific programs or purchases which meet the requirements of the federal regulations on how revenue sharing funds can be spent.

The board also was requested to include money in the budgets to assist the State Park Street Light District, which is in financial difficulties.

Runge said he felt specific appropriations could be made to pay the outstanding Union Electric Co. and Illinois Power Co. bills, but additional help would have to come from highway funds.

It was suggested Highway Commissioner Albert Bell contact his attorney and get an opinion whether highway funds can be used to aid a street light district since the lights do illuminate township roads.

At the suggestion of Auditor W. Lee Adams, the board voted to hire C. D. Peters Construction Co. to survey he area from Angela Drive to the Doherty Slough pump station to determine how much work would be required for a ditch to improve drainage there.

Auditor Norman Hessler requested Bell to review a drainage problem on Ivy Lane and prepare an estimate how much it would cost to replace a drainage system there. He said these funds also may be appropriated in the new budgets.

Despite objections from Whitsell that he did not feel the township had authority to regulate loads on streets, the board approved a resolution setting a 10,000 pound load limit on Angela Drive.

There have been objections from persons in that neighborhood of tractor-trailer trucks parking overnight on Angela Drive.

Mobile home registration

Owners of mobile homes in the Quad-City area will be required to register such properties with the assessor of the township in which the property is located, township assessors reported Wednesday. Registration is required under state law that now permits assessment and taxation of mobile homes from 7.5 cents to 15 cents per square foot, depending upon the age of the properties. The variation in the tax results from an amendment to the original law which levied a 15-cent tax per square foot regardless of age.

The office of Granite City Assessor Von Dee Cruse said that the mobile homes must be registered by the owner who is required to bring the title, or a photo copy of the title, to the assessor's office.

Registration beginning today will continue through April 30. Persons failing to register will be taxed at the full 15 cents per square foot regardless of age of the property.

Assessors explained that the first billing under the new law will be for a six-month period (July 1 through Dec. 31, 1976) with tax bills to be distributed about mid-May. Billing will be on a full year's basis in 1977.

Registration of mobile homes will be conducted by Cruse for Granite City Township, Mrs. Margaret Reidelberger for Venice Township, Carl Macios for Nameoki Township and O. R. Reeves for Chouteau Township.

Nothing was believed missing. Hall said he believed the burglar heard him return and left through the window.

Paschoff reported, however, that two loans of $12,562 each from federal revenue sharing accounts and $45,000 in anticipation warrants still are outstanding against 1975-76 accounts.

19TH AND CLEVELAND

MRS. THOMAS B. JATEFF, the former Miss Lynn M. McCoy, who was married at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McCoy, 4100 South Drive.

Lynn M. McCoy becomes Mrs. Thomas B. Jateff

Miss Lynn M. McCoy and Thomas B. Jateff exchanged wedding vows in a traditional ceremony at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church on March 27.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McCoy, 4100 South Drive. The groom is a son of Mrs. Ethel Jateff, 2171 Northland Drive, and the late Barry Jateff.

Officiating at the 2 o'clock service was the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Lawrence Mattingly. The altar was adorned with bouquets of white gladioli and pink roses, interspersed with greenery.

Nuptial selections were played by organist Mrs. Cleta Judd.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white tulle with a round neckline, trimmed with miniature scallops of English lace.

The lace was repeated on the bodice and Empire waist and accented the full sheer sleeves at the elbow and a circular ruffle at the wrist.

Her A-line skirt fell gracefully into a full court train, bordered with scalloped lace, and lace motifs formed vertical rows on the skirt front.

A duchess style lace hat secured a layered veil of imported English illusion, enhanced with matching English lace. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations tipped blue, pink roses and baby's breath.

Honor attendant Cynthia Meyer chose an organza sleeveless dress designed with a rose print bodice and a long flared skirt in apricot.

A niece of the bride, Lori Warren, served as bridesmaid, choosing an identical gown in pink. Both wore matching ribbon bows in their hair and held bouquets of pink roses and carnations in colors to match their gowns.

Stacia Jateff, the groom's daughter, was dressed in a frock to match the maid of honor's dress and a second flower girl, Pam Meyer, the bride's niece, wore a pink dress. Each carried a small bouquet of apricot and pink pom poms.

The groom chose Craig Myers as his best man. Barry Jateff, a brother of the groom, was groomsmen and Gerald Thompson and Bruce Jateff seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McCoy selected a long gown featuring a pink, apricot and green floral bodice and beige skirt. Her accessories were beige and she wore a pink cymbidium orchid.

Mrs. Jateff, mother of the groom, was attired in a full-length gown and jacket ensemble accented with marabou feather trim at the cuffs. Her accessories were in matching hues and she wore a yellow cymbidium orchid.

An evening reception was held at the VFW Hall, Granite City, with Tammie Jateff and Kim Shaw attending the guest book.

Mrs. Jateff, the groom's mother, entertained the wedding party at a dinner in her home, following the church rehearsal.

After a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nev., the newly married couple is now residing in Granite City.

Golden Agers plan events

President Mrs. Ruby Corbitt opened the potluck dinner of the Golden Age Circle Club Tuesday with the introduction of special guests. A total of 165 members and guests attended.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Youngs, Mina Duggins, Kathryn Smithson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pheneuf and Gloria Masri of El Salvador.

The Rev. Marvin Peters of the First Baptist Church, 21st Street and Delmar Avenue, gave the invocation.

A silent auction to be held at the May 11 meeting was discussed and those planning to attend were requested to bring items for the sale.

Final plans were made to attend the fourth annual Conference on Aging. Mrs. Corbitt reported a bus will leave Kirkpatrick and Anchorage Homes at 8 a.m. April 30. Registrations must be made and a fee of $2 sent prior to April 30, she said.

Easter decorations were used in the table appointments. After dinner, games were played and prizes were awarded to Belle Kreher, Sadie Jones, Neal Pashea, Nan Shone and Gladys Fuller. A floral arrangement, donated by Willis Flowers, was won by Della Hogan.

The next meeting will be at 1 p.m. April 27.

Patti Sue Taylor weds Dennis Paul McBride

Miss Patti Sue Taylor, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Taylor, 2901 Cayuga St., and Dennis Paul McBride, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul McBride, 3725 Cargill Road, were united in marriage on March 6 at the West 22nd Street Baptist Church.

Bouquets of gladioli, baby's breath, mums and ferns, with burning tapers in candelabra set on each side of the altar, provided the setting for the double ring ceremony, performed by the Rev. Elmer McElroy at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Organist Dave Long played "Wedding Prayer," "When God is Near" and the traditional Wedding March.

Phyllis and Linda Andrews, nieces of the bride, served as candlelighters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a long white satin gown. The sheer yoke was enhanced with ruffled Chantilly which also formed the stand-up collar.

Lace also accented the long puff sleeves, hemline of the A-line skirt and chapel train.

She wore a lace camelot cap to hold in place her veil of illusion and she carried a cascade of carnations, baby's breath and greenery.

Maid of honor Miss Kathy Lawson and the bridesmaids, Miss Donna Stout, Mrs. Philip Andrews and Mrs. Lyle Parker, the latter two sisters of the bride, chose Empire style gowns of satin and flocked nylon sheer in blue, mint green, yellow and orchid.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS MCBRIDE. They were married at the West 22nd Street Baptist Church. Formerly Miss Patti Sue Taylor, the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Taylor, 2901 Cayuga St.

Each wore a Juliet cap of matching color lace streamers and carried a bouquet of white carnations tinted in colors to match her attire.

Terri Mitchell, a cousin of the bride, was dressed in a pink frock.

David Gonterman served as the ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Norman Werner. Groomsmen and ushers included Greg Schroeder, Keith Legate and John McCord.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Taylor wore a long green crepe Empire dress with beige and yellow accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. McBride, was attired in a full-length beige knit gown. Her accessories were in white and both wore orchid corsages.

A reception was held in the church fellowship hall after the service. Mrs. John Fagala, a sister of the groom, presided over the guest book.

Both young people graduated from Granite City High School. The bride is employed at George Lindsey's Steak House and her husband works at A. O. Smith Corp.

Parents of the groom hosted a rehearsal dinner at George Lindsey's Steak House.

The couple is now residing in Granite City, following a wedding trip to Missouri.

Easter lilies can be planted

Easter lilies can be a living memorial for several years when planted in your garden, area lawn-garden authority Wayne B. Siefert said this week.

"Good drainage and full sunshine are important requirements to succeed in re-blooming this lily."

"When the flowers pass, continue to water as needed to maintain good foliage. Move the pot to a bright window or sunny porch until planting time in early May," Siefert suggested.

"Plant your gift plant with the old bulb three to four inches deep. Spring rains and sunshine will maintain good foliage for several weeks."

"Next year, it may be nearly May before a new shoot appears and late summer before flowers develop."

McKINLEY BRIDGE APPROACH AREA will be the scene of frequent detours as traffic lane construction work continues. This view last week shows (at left) an auto that had been northbound on Main Street returning to Main after being routed farther to the east. The work in the center of the picture will create lanes for cars departing from the bridge toll area (right) to continue east, turn north across a strip of Broadway and descend to pass through the new Broadway underpass. The grade separation project will eliminate train-created auto traffic delays.

Youth faces 10 charges

A young East Alton man faces a total of 10 charges after police alleged chasing his car from Kirkpatrick Homes to the 3400 block of Village Lane late Monday.

Officers reported they first stopped a car in the 2300 block of Kirkpatrick Homes for investigation and they alleged finding a speaker from a drive-in motion picture theater in the back seat. The officers said the driver, David A. McGee, 20, East Alton, and two 15-year-old Granite City boys, were reprimanded and then allowed to go.

They alleged when the car drove away, it did so at a high rate of speed and officers stopped the car again in the 1900 block of Kirkpatrick Homes. Due to confusion over the driver's license, officers instructed the driver to follow them to the police station for questioning. They alleged the car drove across Nameoki Road and through the parking lot of Kosky's Market, then turning onto Victory Drive and leaving again at a high rate of speed.

A chase ensued with speeds reaching up to 80-miles-per-hour, according to officers. Two squad cars chased the vehicle east on Myrtle Avenue, north to St. Clair Avenue, through several stop signs and onto Maryville Road and north onto Clark Avenue, then turning right to Buenger Blvd.

Officers charged the car being chased attempted to force a police car off the road during the chase.

At Buenger Boulevard and Village Lane, the car slid into the yard of 3402 Village Lane and struck a swing set and a patio and porch, police said.

The auto then tried to leave the scene and an officer used his gun to shoot a tire flat. McGee and the two juveniles were taken to the Granite City Jail where the juveniles were released later to their parents after posting $25 bond each on a curfew charge.

McGee was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, theft, fleeing, reckless driving, speeding (80-miles-per-hour in a 30 mph zone) and stop sign violations at Edgewood and St. Clair, Myrtle at St. Clair, Wilson and Faith, Maryville and Stratford, St. Clair at Maryville and National, and at Stratford and Clark.

Venice Park borrowing authorized

The Venice Park Board last week approved a proposal to sell $12,000 in anticipation warrants to the First National Bank in Madison to meet operating expenses until park district tax collections are received.

A need to sell tax warrants results from problems in extending countywide property assessments which resulted in a class suit filed in circuit court at Edwardsville by rural landowners challenging the legality of the county's right to make unilateral assessment increases.

The problems result from a new state law requiring an overall county assessment ratio of 33 1/3 per cent be established.

To comply, county assessment officials approved substantial increases on the valuation of county farmland and have met organized opposition by rural landowners which has delayed completion of assessments in the rural townships.

While no major assessment problems have resulted in the urban townships, completion of the assessment books so that tax rates may be extended for the county as a whole is necessary in all townships.

Tax collections normally begin in late May or early June providing tax revenue for tax bodies such as cities, school districts, park districts, the county and others.

Venice's park district fiscal year begins May 1, and park board President Peter Pope says existing funds will be nearly exhausted by the month of June.

Smith profit in initial quarter

A rebounding economy and successful cost reduction programs helped A. O. Smith Corporation recover from a loss in the first quarter last year to a substantial profit in the first quarter of 1976.

Smith, chairman and chief executive officer, announced Tuesday in Milwaukee.

A. O. Smith earnings from continuing operations in the 1976 first quarter were $5,245,000, or $1.07 per share, on sales of $152,002,000. A year ago losses from continuing operations were $627,000, or 13 cents per share, with sales of $101,945,000.

In addition to the earnings from continuing operations, A. O. Smith gained $49,000, or nine cents per share, in the first quarter from the sale of its meter systems business which was effective Jan. 1, 1976.

The combination of earnings from continuing operations and the gain from the disposition provides total first quarter net earnings of $5,665,000, or $1.16 per share, Smith said. Because of a small profit from discontinued operations in the first quarter of 1975, the total net loss a year ago was $353,000, or seven cents per share.

Smith said sales of every major product line improved over a year ago, with the Automotive Division shipments up over 50 per cent from the first quarter last year.

Demand for automobile and truck frames manufactured by the Automotive Division was significantly higher than a year ago as sales of vehicles using isolated, separate frames by the automotive companies in the first quarter reached their highest level in several years.

Youth attempts robbery; just like TV program

A young man attempting an armed robbery at the Dairy Bar, 2873 Nameoki Road, was frightened when a woman employee screamed and ran to the rear of the building at 9:55 p.m. Wednesday. The would-be robber fled empty-handed.

The employee said she looked up to see a young man, about 19, standing at the front window and waving his face with a nylon stocking. He then reached his right hand across to the left side of his waistband and pulled out a large nickel-plated handgun, police were told.

The employee said she thought it might be a joke and asked the man what he wanted. She related he mumbled something she could not understand, but she did realize it was a robbery attempt.

She then screamed and ran to the rear of the store and the young man fled, she told officers. The would-be robber was about 5 feet, 11 inches tall and had long blond hair. He wore a blue jacket to his waist over a white tee shirt, according to the employee.

The attempted robbery occurred only about 45 minutes after a similar robbery was shown on the Stansky & Hutch television program during which a gunman pulled a nylon stocking over his head, displayed a gun and robbed a store.

Consultants sought on extending I-270

The Illinois Department of Transportation is seeking consultant services to prepare contract plans for construction of 15 miles of Interstate 270 to the south and east.

The department is also seeking consultant services for five other highway projects and one water resources project. At the present time the East St. Louis area District Office is preparing an environmental impact statement for the new interstate highway section. When this study is completed and approved by the Federal Highway Administration, work will begin on the design and construction plans, a spokesman said.

The consultants will be selected May 14 by a special five-member committee.

All firms must be prequalified with the Department of Transportation to insure their abilities in accomplishing project objectives.

Following is a list of projects by county:

MONROE COUNTY (Interstate 270), engineering services for preparation of contract plans for proposed construction of 2.65 miles of I-270 from the Mississippi River levee to the Monroe-St. Clair County line. Construction will provide for three 12-foot lanes in each direction separated by a 64-foot median.

ST. CLAIR (Interstate 270), engineering services for preparation of contract plans for construction of 3.79 miles of I-270 from the Monroe-St. Clair County line to the Terminal Railroad northeast of Dupo. Construction provides for three 12-foot lanes in each direction separated by a 64-foot median.

ST. CLAIR COUNTY (270), engineering services for the preparation of contract plans for the proposed section of 4.24 miles of I-270 from northeast of Dupo to the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad at Centerville. Construction will provide for three 12-foot lanes in each direction separated by a 26-foot median.

ST. CLAIR-MADISON COUNTIES (Interstate 270), engineering services for preparation of contract plans for construction of 4.28 miles of I-270 from Bunkum Road (north of Interstate 64) to Interstate 55 west of Coonville. Construction will provide for three 12-foot lanes in each direction separated by a 64-foot median.

ST. CLAIR (Ill. Rt. 150), engineering services for contract plans for improvement of 3.84 miles of Route 150 from 570 feet north of Illinois Route 161 in Swansea to 620 feet south of Lincoln Trail in Fairview Heights. The project consists of widening existing 20-foot pavement to two 24-foot lanes separated by a 14-foot painted median and resurfacing the roadway.

ST. CLAIR COUNTY (Interstate 70), engineering services for preparation of contract plans for modification and addition to the Bowman Avenue Pumping Station on I-270 in East St. Louis.

COOK COUNTY (Rt. 72), engineering for contract plans for a structure to carry east-bound traffic over Interstate 90. The structure will parallel the existing two-lane structure, which will be used for west-bound traffic.

LAKE, MCHEENRY COUNTIES, engineering services for an environmental assessment report dealing with possible environmental and ecological impacts in conjunction with dredging of silt deposits from the Fox Chain of Lakes, for restoration of a recreational boating channel.

STATEWIDE, engineering services for an inventory of local road obstacles on selected local road systems in Jackson, Lake, LaSalle, Logan, Macon and Wabash County. This inventory will enable the department to develop priorities for elimination of, or installation of protective devices from, hazardous roadside obstacles.

STATEWIDE, engineering services for preparation of contract plans and documents to signalize 30 intersections on state highways during the 1976-77 fiscal year.

MARK JILES, Son of Mrs. Helen Jiles, 119 W. 2nd St., Madison, he has been selected as Madison High School scholar-athlete and will be honored at a banquet at the Chase Park Plaza Hotel May 13. Jiles' other activities include band (4 years), Foreign Language Club (2 years), National Honor Society (3 years, presently secretary) and vice president of this year's senior class. His educational goal is to attend medical school after graduation from Madison High.

TRUCK IS LOOTED
A $179 citizen's band radio was stolen from the truck of William Ellis, Bethalto, parked at the Illinois Bell Telephone Co. lot at 21st Street and Edison Avenue, it was reported at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Police noted there have been several recent thefts from vehicles at that location recently.

Vehicle tags go on sale Monday

Sale of Granite City vehicle licenses will begin Monday at the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens in the City Hall.

Passenger car tags will cost $3 until May 15, when the price will increase to $5.50. Under the city wheel tax ordinance, the tags should be displayed on cars and other vehicles after May 1, beginning of the city's fiscal year.

Senior citizens may purchase the tags this year for $1 until the May 15 deadline when the price to senior citizens also will increase to $5.50.

Girls take auto

Two girls, about 16 or 17-years-of-age, were seen tampering with the auto of Joseph Martinez, 801 Niedringhaus Ave., after which they drove the car away, it was reported at 10:20 a.m. Wednesday.

Martinez said the car was parked in the 900 block of Niedringhaus Avenue when it was taken. A neighbor said he saw the girls in the car and they appeared to be tampering with the ignition. He said he did not call police at that time because he did not want to become involved. The girls then drove away in the car.

It is a white 1964 Chevrolet Impala two-door auto.

BURGLARY ON HERBERT
The front door at the home of Florence Hamilton, 2817 Herbert St., was kicked open and damaged and her apartment was ransacked, it was reported Monday. Courts they feel the courts have an adverse image, some of it resulting from lack of public understanding of the reasons behind specific actions and sentences on non-sentences.

Hope was voiced that citizens can become more familiar with the inner workings of the court system.

Points approved by the gathering included:

1. The local Chamber will contact other Chambers in this region and develop plans to help reduce crime, which it is believed is being committed mostly by "amateurs." Not many professional criminals are active here at present, it was concluded.

2. Support will be given by citizens and officials for anti-crime bills and changes in existing criminal laws. Types of potential legislation were outlined by State Senator Sam Vandenberg.

3. Probation will be favored only where it can be properly administered by able probation officers. A strong system of law, similar to the Missouri law, was described as needed. Higher bail bonds were urged, with less use of recognizances. It was asserted that recognizance (signature) releases should be barred to repeat offenders.

4. Associations of judges and attorneys will seek to assemble information that could be helpful to lawmakers and also will try to "keep in close touch regarding what is needed."

5. Crime prevention is to be given strong emphasis along with punishment for offenses. It was asserted that the judicial system alone, no matter how administered, cannot itself limit crime to an acceptable level.

6. News publications will be encouraged to make would-be law violators aware that convictions will be sought as part of a "swift, fair and tough" law enforcement approach. Successes in detention and punishment efforts were described as worthy of intensive publicity.

"As graduation time nears, it is important that local people know that a number of young people will not graduate here because they are in prison," Committee Chairman Warren Decatur commented.

"And as a result of aggressive police action, drug arrests have been increasing and the sale locally has been slowing down."

Arson charged in garage fire

Madison County sheriff's deputies have arrested Donald P. Flynn, 28, Collinsville, and charged him with arson in connection with Saturday's fire which damaged the garage of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Marion Riddle, 4375 Highway 162.

Mrs. Riddle alleged she saw Flynn come from the rear of the garage and get into his auto moments before the fire was discovered. Long Lake volunteer firemen, who extinguished the minor fire, said rags soaked in a flammable liquid were believed to have been placed at the rear of the garage and ignited.

Deputies were told Flynn and his daughter, Linda Sue Flynn, are in the process of getting a divorce and several threatening telephone calls have been received recently, including one threatening to burn down the Riddle home, where the daughter is residing.

Early this week, deputies served a warrant alleging arson and a summons in a divorce proceeding on Flynn at his home. Bond was set at $10,000. He was released on bond this week.

Cumulative

requirements into the new constitution demanding laws to increase the health and safety of working conditions for miners.

In a document that encouraged the centralization of state government's power in many other ways, executive authority was divided.

The constitution of the United States concentrated executive authority in a single office providing that "the executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States of America."

But the Illinois constitution of 1870, while it stated that "the supreme executive power shall be vested in the governor," qualified that assertion by declaring that the "executive department shall consist of a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor of public accounts, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, and the attorney general."

Each officer ran for election independently of the governor and had no real obligation to support his program.

A delegate spoke for a majority of his colleagues when he said, "The power to inaugurate and mature the policy of the state belongs exclusively to the General Assembly, and the duty of the governor is to execute that policy, not to say what the policy shall be."

Indeed, the bicameral General Assembly remained the most powerful branch of government, exercising "every power not delegated to some other department, or expressly denied it by the Constitution."

New apportionment provisions nearly doubled the numbers of Illinois senators and representatives.

After 95 days of debate, the convention adjourned.

Public discussion of the new document never became heated and only July 2, 1870, it was adopted by the voters.

The vast numbers of new people, the expanding economy, and the growth of urban centers, especially Chicago, required a change in the basic law.

The new constitution met those needs well enough to serve the state for 106 years.

8th River Festival season will offer greatest quantity and variety

The 1976 Mississippi River Festival season will be "a summer of major award winners," Festival Director Lyle Ward said this week.

The MRF, held on the campus of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will be starting its eighth season on July 25 with the Preservation Hall Jazz Band, and will end nine weeks later with an Aug. 21 performance by The Bee Gees. "In those nine weeks," said Ward, "we will have Oscar-winning documentaries like 'Hearts and Minds', Grammy-Winning performers like Janis Ian and Loggins and Messina, Emmy Award winners like Hal Holbrook in his 'Mark Twain Tonight,' and much more." Other highlights for the 1976 season include the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, the Juillard String Quartet and two special dance groups among the expanded fine arts programming; Benny Goodman, Donny and Marie Osmond with the Osmonds, and a "Music of the 40s" night for family entertainment; and Linda Ronstadt, the

Doobie Brothers, the Spinners, and James Taylor among folk and rock groups. "This year, we are again expanding our efforts to provide something for everyone," said Ward. "The Festival also will be offering educational opportunities this summer, including special workshops with the dance groups and the jazz and barbershop groups. "And," he added, "with the continued expansion of the fine arts programming, we are able to bring in such outstanding performers as the Juillard String Quartet, the Cleveland Orchestra String Quartet, the Scottish National Orchestra Chorus with the St. Louis Symphony, and more." Special events slated for the 1976 season include a free film series, an expanded Chamber Music series, a Summer Music Institute, an Arts and Crafts fair, a residency by James Cunningham and the Acme Dance Company and the Murray Louis Dance Company, barbershop harmony and jazz workshops, Barry Manilow and the Trinidad Folk Life Festival. Among the fine arts performers scheduled to appear at the Festival are the Chicago Symphony, The St. Louis Symphony will participate in a two-week residency. Folk, jazz and rock performers include the season-opening Preservation Hall Jazz Band, the Benny Goodman Sextet and the Chuck Mangione Quartet, the night of Barbershop Harmony, the Jim Stafford Show, Dan Fogelberg, the Marshall Tucker Band, James Taylor. Also, Harry Chapin, the Spinners, the Doobie Brothers, the Ozark Mountain Daredevils, Gordon Lightfoot, Loggins and Messina, Judy Collins, the

Nitty-Gritty Dirt Band, Linda Ronstadt, Esther Phillips and the Bobby "Blue" Band, Van Jones, Ian, David Crosby and Graham Nash, and the Bee Gees. Walgreen sets sales record

Walgreen Co. second quarter sales for fiscal 1976 constituted a company record, according to President Charles R. Walgreen III. Second-quarter sales for the period ending Feb. 29, rose 11.5 per cent to $227,589,086, compared to $203,836,031 for the three months last year.

LIFO-adjusted (last in, first out) earnings for the quarter were up 35.1 per cent to $6,131,282, compared to $4,539,570 for the same three months a year ago. Earnings per share increased 92 cents, versus 69 cents per share last year. On a fully diluted basis, earnings per share were 84 cents, versus 63 cents last year.

Walgreen said, "All retailing divisions participated in the profit gains. Our Globe department stores, recovering sharply from past recession difficulties, are now performing close to plan. Our Food Service division is reflecting the improved national economy. Walgreen Drug Stores, our major operation, showed a much-strengthened second quarter."

Volume for the first six months of fiscal 1976 also constituted a Walgreen Co. record. Sales for the six months ending Feb. 29, rose 10.5 per cent to $597,211,4, compared to $540,662,850 for the same period last year.

LIFO-adjusted earnings for the first six months were $6,913,633, and 18.1 per cent increase over 1975, when the earnings were $5,860,066.

Plan survey of pre-schoolers

In an effort to obtain accurate figures for projected enrollment, the Granite City Public Schools in cooperation with the Community Advisory Council and local chapters of Parent Teachers Associations, will conduct surveys to ask information about preschool children.

Two schools, Mitchell and Nameoki, will conduct pilot surveys the week of April 26. Each student presently in those schools will be asked to take a survey card home. The card will ask information only in regard to preschool children in the home.

Volunteers from each school will then conduct a survey to contact those homes not previously contacted by telephone or in person.

Warriors on tour following 22-3 diamond win Tuesday

GCHS South's baseball team enters a three-game series at Kansas City, Mo., today and tomorrow with an 8-1 record, fresh from clobbering East St. Louis High 22-3 here Tuesday in four and a half innings.

The Warriors departed from Granite City yesterday morning and were to view a professional game last night in Kansas City Stadium between the Royals and the California Angels.

Today, the team is visiting the Truman Library at Independence, Mo., before taking on Kansas City's Belton High School. South then plays Hickman Mills at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow, followed by a 6:30 p.m. game with Lee's Summit High.

Against East St. Louis, the Warriors collected 17 hits and made one error while pitcher Randy Lyerla went the distance, yielding five hits to the Flyers.

Now with a 4-1 pitching record, Lyerla held the Flyers scoreless in the first three innings while South garnered three runs in the bottom of the third. Ed Prazma, Jeff Scarborough and Eldon Warfield singled, Keith Champion reached on an error which allowed runner to score, and a groundout added a run.

After the visitors scored a run in the fourth, South collected 10 hits and drew eight walks in its half of that frame enroute to pushing across 19 runs.

Jim Cedor and Tom Hennrich began the merry-go-round on the bases with singles. Ed Prazma drew a walk and Scarborough hit safely.

Warfield reached base on a fielder's choice, followed by five batters in a row walking — Champion, Mike Clark, Dan Stanton, Randy Smith and Cedor.

Hennrich was hit by a pitched ball and Prazma's leftfield sacrifice fly allowed a runner to score.

Singles were delivered by Scarborough and Warfield and Champion walked before Keith Moran was hit by a pitch.

Two runs scored on a single by Stanton and Kenny Wiesehan hit safely to load the bases. Al Woolen walked, forcing in a runner, and runners dashed home on a double by Prazma and a triple by John Lakin.

East St. Louis scored twice in the fifth before the contest was called due to the loss of over 10 runs.

Collecting hits were Scarborough (four), Hennrich and Warfield (three each), Prazma (two) and Smith, Cedor, Stanton, Wiesehan and Lakin.

First Baseman Green of East St. Louis was hurt while at bat in the fourth inning when he swung the bat and suffered an unrelated leg injury. Taken away in an ambulance, he is believed to have suffered a strained tendon.

Giles doubled in the fourth and scored on a hit by Hancock. Collecting Madison's five hits were Pecurka, two, and Gulash, Giles and Hancock.

Trojans, Flyers tie 10-10

Trojan baseball mentor Bill Campbell put three hurlers on the mound at East St. Louis Monday in a contest that saw both teams tied 10-10 when it had to be called because of darkness.

Madison High's Andy Ellis started, and was relieved by Nick Wargin in the fourth. Jeff Thompson went to the mound in the sixth inning.

Three Madison runners crossed home plate in the opening inning on walks to Joe Gulash, Pete Pecurka, Dale Woodson and Tommy Jones, a sacrifice fly by Danny Hancock and a hit by Prince Giles.

The hosts deadlocked the game in their half of that inning.

East St. Louis went ahead 6-5 in the second inning after Ellis walked, Gulash reached on an error and Pecurka and Woodson singled for MHS.

Madison took a two-run lead in the third when Giles, Brian Eaves, Gulash and Pecurka drew walks and Woodson doubled.

The Flyers tied it at 8-8 in the fourth and inched ahead 9-8 in the fifth.

Madison regained the lead with two runs in the sixth as Woodson hit safely and Hancock and Giles reached on errors.

Two scored when the throw on Giles' grounder went over the mound at East St. Louis.

East St. Louis got its tenth run in the same inning. Woodson garnered two hits and Giles, Pecurka and Gulash one each.

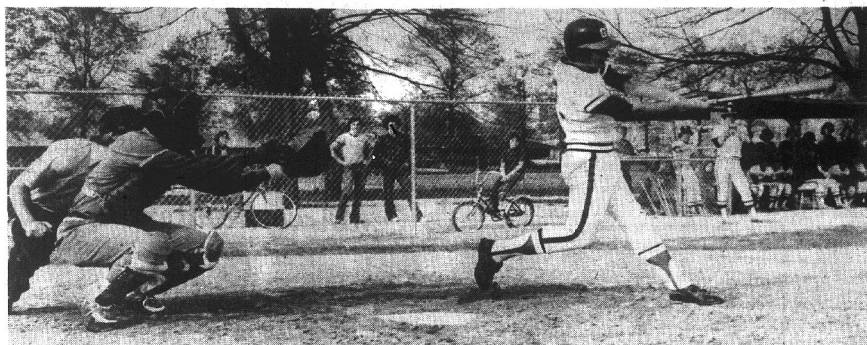

Wargin, a sophomore, went on the mound Tuesday against the Knights of Mater Dei High at Breese with his team trailing 8-3; he got the third out in the third inning and then yielded no hits in the remainder of the contest as Madison lost 8-4.

The Trojans jumped in front in the opening inning on a hit by Gulash and a home run by Pecurka.

Madison tied the contest 3-3 in the third when Pecurka singled, stole second, advanced on an error, and went home on a wild throw to first base in a putout attempt.

Mater Dei pushed five runs across in the third with Thompson on the mound before Wargin struck out the next batter.

Giles doubled in the fourth and scored on a hit by Hancock. Collecting Madison's five hits were Pecurka, two, and Gulash, Giles and Hancock.

MIGHTY SWING. With runners at first and third bases on the diamond at Wilson Park Tuesday, Warrior Keith Champion's flyball was pulled in by an East St. Louis fielder to retire the side. But GCHS South eventually won 22-3.

North soph relay team 7th, South 10th at Alton

Granite City sophomore track and field athletes competed Tuesday in a 15-school Alton relay meet, captured by East St. Louis with 85½ points.

North earned 18 points to tie Missouri's Hazelwood Central for seventh, and South tallied 12 points for tenth place.

Finishing behind the victors were St. Louis Sumner with 64, Belleville West 32, Alton 27, St. Louis Roosevelt 25½, St. Louis Southwest 20, North and Central, Centralia 15, South, St. Louis Beaumont and St. Louis Suidan 10 each, Edwardsville nine, Cahokia six and Missouri's Hazelwood East, two.

North's Steelers took first place in two events—Mike Baker, the two-mile run in 9:47.4, and the distance medley squad of John Bracamontes, Greg Stout, Kevin Burch and Baker in 11:17.

South's Ervin Rea won the discus throw with a toss of 139 feet, seven inches.

HEADING FOR THIRD BASE is Warrior Randy Smith after hitting safely in the second inning of play Tuesday at Wilson Park against the East St. Louis Flyers.

South tallied three runs in the third inning and a big 19 in the fourth.

Trailriders open '76 show season

To start the spring-summer riding season, the Trailriders Saddle Club of Granite City staged its first show this week at the local arena, located near the junction of Rock and Chouteau Slough roads and the Chain of Rocks Canal levee. Club members have painted the arena buildings and fences in red, white and blue to help commemorate the Bicentennial Year, according to Miss Ginger Bowman, club secretary.

In May, the riding group will sponsor a special Bicentennial horse show for area residents and contestants also to celebrate the nation's 200th birthday.

Despite brisk weather, a total of 57 riders participated in this week's competition. A triple first-place winner was Dawn Stuckwisch riding Tonka in the pony pleasure, pony poles and pony barrels events.

Double wins were logged by Leon Weldon riding Fort Cody in senior barrels and senior poles; Sam Warner on Black Beauty in the gaited country pleasure class and the fox-trotting event riding Seat Bell Star; and Karen Schirmer riding Laxy in junior poles and junior bareback.

Also winning first place awards were: Alex Radac haltering Miss Tuff Charge (mare division); Don Schirmer haltering Rocky (gelding division); and Kathy Weldon haltering Yessiree Bob (stallion division).

Mike Bowman riding Little Buddy, junior poles; Billy Lefkey, riding Leo's 4-Stop, junior barrels; Don Schirmer on Rocky, senior bareback pleasure; Cindy Woodard riding Koko Queenie, senior western pleasure.

Lisa Foley riding Apache, plug race; Danny Bowman on Yogi Baer, flag race; Guy Jackson on Pistol Pete in the potato race novelty event; and Katie Bargiel riding Tennessee Buck in a new class, ladies gaited country pleasure.

Business Women to honor media

Bob Hardy, potentate of Ainad Temple and director of special events for KMOX radio station, St. Louis, will be the principal speaker at the Granite City Business and Professional Women's annual "Public Relations Awards" dinner at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Shirley Adams, BPW public relations and dinner chairman, said awards will be presented to area newspapers and radio stations for assistance in the 1975-76 club year and to individual BPW members.

A special segment of the evening will focus upon seven women whose contributions to the community are considered outstanding.

Resumes of the seven women, two of whom are deceased, were submitted to a panel of judges which deemed all should be honored equally, Mrs. Adams said.

A Williamsburg Inn dinner will be served and the dinner meeting is open to all working women in the Quad-City area.

Reservations, costing $5 each, can be made by calling Mrs. Elvira Thurber, at 878-3818, or Mrs. Dolores Allen, at 878-5876, through Sunday.

A Bicenennial theme will prevail at the dinner and entertainment will include a performance by the Sunshine Singers of Mitchell School singing a selection of patriotic songs under the direction of Mrs. JoAnn Pelaye.

BOB HARDY
Ainad Potentate

The guest speaker was elected in January to head the 8,400 nobles of Southern Illinois for 1976. He is the 66th potentate of Ainad, one of the 10 temples in Shrineland and among the leaders in child assistance at Shriners Hospitals for Crippled Children.

He is a native of DuBois, Pa., and was educated in Syracuse, N. Y., graduating from Onondaga Valley Academy. He served in the Air Force and was assigned as an instructor in radio communications to Scott Air Force Base, Belleville.

After re-enlisting, Hardy was sent to the Philippine Islands and supervised construction of a broadcast radio station which was added to the Armed Forces Radio Network at Clark Air Force Base.

Hardy returned to Scott AFB as a teacher in the Communications School and began weekend duty with WIBV Radio in Belleville. He moved to WIL Radio in St. Louis, serving there as news director for 2 1/2 years.

He joined the KMOX team in 1960 and was named news director there in 1968 and director of special events in 1973. He is member of the Board of McKendree College, Lebanon, and a past president of the St. Louis Press Club.

Hardy and his wife, Re, met while he was in the service and she was a member of the Women's Air Force. The couple has a daughter, Sandy, now making her home in California with her husband, Lt. Glen Chinn, an Air Force jet pilot, and a son, Bob Jr., who attends Southern Illinois University in Edwardsville.

The family lives in Belleville.

Thorngate club studies perfumes

Mrs. Thomas King entertained the Thorngate Garden Club Tuesday in her home, 2075 North St., and gave a talk on perfumes. She noted the different kinds, types and presented a short history of the preparation of perfume.

Following the presentation, Mrs. Beulah Miller recited a favorite reading on perfume—"Happiness is a perfume you cannot pour on others without getting a few drops on yourself."

The hostess served salad greens and other ingredients for each guest to make her own salad, complimented with cheese tarts.

The dinner table was covered with a pink cloth and centered with a crystal swan floral piece and pink candlesticks. Favors were tiny bottles of French perfume in keeping with the program theme.

Mrs. Clara Schillinger, president, conducted the business meeting and read an invitation to attend the Garden Study Club's annual guest day at 9:30 a.m. May 5 at the Naneoki Recreation Center.

Plans were made for members to motor to the Troy Professional Home at 6 p.m. May 5 to entertain the residents with games, prizes and refreshments.

A large quilted picture and a vase of permanent dried flowers will be presented to the home in memory of the late Mrs. Mary Markham, a former member of the club, whose daughter, June, is a resident there.

Members will also attend the dedication of the entrance to the Madison County Bicycle and Nature Trail at 10 a.m. Saturday, April 24.

A plant sale was held with the proceeds added to the club treasury. Members agreed to attend an April 22 luncheon at Dohack's Restaurant, Fairview Heights.

A new member, Mrs. Wanda Herman, was welcomed during the meeting. Others attending included Miss Jean Bethel and Mesdames Charles Delp, Charles Polley, Medar Young and Enid Bolen. Mrs. Delp will host the May 11 meeting in her home.

At 9 a.m., the Sunday school department will present a program, featuring children in the junior classes.

Senior high and adult classes from the Sunday school will lead the program at the 7 p.m. services. Dr. George A. Rosenthal of the Edgemont Bible Church, Belleville, will be the guest minister.

Music appropriate to the Easter season will be presented at each of all three services. Mrs. Bethel J. Davis, mission superintendent, announced.

The public is invited to attend. Ample parking is available at the rear of the mission, Mrs. Davis said.

Cahokia Mounds Park exhibit May 22-23 among spring Bicentennial events in state

Two hundred springtime ago, there wasn't all that much in the way of recreation for the Illinois pioneer. Wilderness "fun" included foot races, market shooting, maybe an impromptu dance in a backwoods meadow.

The backwoods meadows are still there, but things have changed since French and British colonists troicked on the Illinois frontier.

An endless array of festivals, carnivals, sporting events—everything from a thrashing canoe race to a rustic country cookout—are on tap for the current springtime season.

Competitors from 18 nations vied for speed skating honors at the University of Illinois ice rink in Champaign. The world event, ending this week, was tagged as a major Bicentennial event for the state.

On April 24-25, Fenne Clyffe County Days, an annual festival held at the picturesque Fenne Clyffe State Park near Goreville, will feature craft displays, bluegrass and country music, and a fiddlers' jam-boree. The park also offers picnic and hiking facilities.

"Springtime doesn't mean you have to stay outdoors to enjoy yourself," the Illinois Bicentennial Commission and Illinois Office of Tourism report.

"May gives a chance to view a spectacular exhibit of Chicago architecture at the Museum of Contemporary Art, 333 E. Ontario St. The exhibit was created by Germans and displayed throughout the world before coming to Illinois' largest city."

"The photo event is featured during the entire month of May and is part of the Bicentennial celebration: Illinois Architecture—A Revolution on the Prairie."

"For a colorful journey back to the days of the Civil War, you might want to head for the town of Goodfield, where a realistic military encampment, drill competition, weapons demonstration and Civil War battle brings back the mid-1800s. The May 12 event also features a military ball and Civil War flea market."

"If you feel like dressing up as a Civil War soldier or a 19th Century lady, you're welcome to live out your fantasies at the Saturday evening costume ball. Sunday morning heralds the Civil War Battle. The event will be held at the Timberline Campground and Stable."

"If you feel like seeing another Civil War encampment, make it to Galena for the May 14-16 U.S. Grant cantonment. The annual re-creation boasts a roster of 300 authentically dressed enthusiasts as well as a parade on Sunday morning. If you've never seen a sky filled with puffs of battle smoke, you might want to see the artillery contest."

"Central Illinois flavor and an aura of history come alive May 15-16 during the 1976 Old Capitol Art Fair in Springfield. Held in the Old Capitol Plaza in the shadow of some of the nation's most famous historic sites, the fair offers two days of unique exhibits and a chance to browse through Springfield's Lincoln landmarks."

"If you want to peek back into an age when prehistoric Indians roamed the Illinois prairie, you might visit Cahokia Mounds State Park."

"Held on May 22-23, the native Illinois exhibit is held on the site of North America's largest prehistoric city. Indian cultures will be portrayed through craft and lifestyle displays."

"Libertyville becomes the starting point for one of the most energetic events of the spring season when feverish paddlers compete in the Annual Des Plaines River Canoe Marathon."

"Over 1,800 oarslappers are scheduled to make the 19-mile trek on May 22-23. For information and reservations you can write: Illinois Paddling Council, 2316 Prospect Ave., Evanston, Ill. 60201."

"The end of May features one of the blockbuster events of the year: Marriot's Great America, a huge theme park located near Gurnee, Ill., offers a jamboree of excitement that lets you step right into five arenas of America's rich heritage."

"During one day you can step into history and visit Orleans 'Place, Yankee Harbor and the Yukon Territory, as well as sample 30 rides and eat in one of 30 restaurants."

"The largest carousel on earth, five theaters, a flume ride that drops 80 feet, and the highest looping roller coaster in the world gives only a taste of might want to consider that the park uses enough hay to feed 40 horses for one year and enough shingles to roof 18,000 houses. It has enough concrete in its construction to build a four-lane highway ten miles long, four million feet of lumber, two million nails, and one million screws and bolts.

"Love Park becomes the site of some simple parade fun during the Young at Heart Festival scheduled for June 11-13. Broiling bratwurst sizzling in the afternoon sun, thundering drum and bugle corps competition, boat races, a splashy ski show, and continuous live rock and country music make this a fitting climax to spring's outdoor activities."

"Before bracing for the summer Illinois lineup, you might take in the Old Town Art Fair in Chicago. A packed assortment of creative displays—from sculpture to painting—has been a trademark of this urban art event for years."

"Unlike the first Illinois pioneers, you probably have a better chance to fill your springtime agenda with relaxing, native fun. Knowing where and when to go helps; you're already halfway there."

"For more information on Illinois recreation and historic locations, write: Illinois Adventure Center, 160 N. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill., 60601; or Illinois Office of Tourism, 222 S. College Ave., Springfield, Ill., 62706."

Shots damage parked autos

Four Granite City residents reported during the weekend their autos were damaged with shots from an air rifle or pistol.
Beulah Lierance, 2831 Sheridan Ave., reported the passenger window on her 1966 Dodge was broken by air rifle pellets. Isabel Hopkins, 604 Kirkpatrick Homes, told police the rear window of her 1967 Falcon was shattered by what appeared to be a projectile from an air rifle.

Debra Cruse, 2329 Edwards St., said the driver's window on a 1972 Ford truck, parked at her home, was shattered by pellets from an air gun; and Mark Elmore, 1810 August St., Apt. 1, reported a rear window on his 1972 Vega was broken by air pistol pellets.

Luke 24:5... "And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said to him, 'Why seek you the living among the dead?'"
The Lord has been crucified! What a shattering experience for his followers. He could save others, himself he could not save. How terrible wrong that statement of Christ declared, "No man takes his life from me. I have the power to lay it down, and I have the power to take it up again! Why then seek for the living among the dead? Jesus is not in the tomb. He is not on the cross. He is on the right hand of God where He ever lives, making intercession for you and will keep the living safe!"
Then lift up your eyes and behold Him!

Realtors salute Uncle Sam as U.S. Bicentennial project

One of the items of history uncovered during the nation's Bicentennial celebration is that Uncle Sam — symbol for the United States — really lived.

Because so few Americans knew Uncle Sam was a real man, realtors across the nation have decided to focus attention on this nearly lost story from American history for their Bicentennial project, according to John Krevovich, president of the Granite City Board of Realtors, and Mrs. Cleta Judd, chairman of the local Realtors' public relations committee.

Samuel Wilson was a meatpacker and provisioner to the U. S. Army during the War of 1812.

Although he eventually became the internationally known symbol of the United States, he was an average American from humble beginnings who loved his homeland. He was not a brilliant politician or statesman, nor was he a heroic figure, they related.

He was born in Menotomy (now Arlington), Mass., and was nearly nine years old when Paul Revere rode out from Boston and past the Wilson property toward Lexington, warning of the British march to Concord. It made a deep impression on him to have been present at the birth of American liberty.

When Sam was a young man, he and his brother moved to Troy, N. Y., where they started a brickmaking business. Later, they entered the meat-packing business, and it was in this connection that Sam unwittingly won enduring fame, Krevovich and Mrs. Judd said.

Wilson was known affectionately as Uncle Sam by his many nieces and nephews and by friends and neighbors in Troy.

The barrels of beef he and his brother supplied to the Army were stamped by the government purchasing agents with the letters "U.S." It was this abbreviation that was the foundation for the name "Uncle Sam," becoming synonymous with "United States."

The physical characteristics of the Uncle Sam drawn by modern-day cartoonists are based on those of the man, Sam Wilson.

In "Uncle Sam: The Man and the Legend" — a book written in the late 1950s by Alton Ketchum and reprinted by the National Association of Realtors as part of the U. S. Bicentennial program — one of Wilson's great-nephews is quoted in this description of Sam Wilson:

"In form and carriage he greatly resembled Abraham Lincoln. He was tall, well preserved and typical of the well-to-do old gentleman of his day. He had high cheek bones ... and wore his grey hair rather long."

The official U. S. State Department portrait of Uncle Sam fits the same description. This painting, done by the late Herbert R. Nixon more than 25 years ago, was discovered by realtors in researching their Bicentennial program.

The painting was purchased and presented in February 1976 to President Gerald Ford. It now hangs in the Great Hall of the Commerce Department Building in Washington, and later will be moved to the Smithsonian Institution.

The book — in hardcover copies — is being made available to schools and libraries here and elsewhere through realtors' nationwide network of state and local boards.

Quid-city area distribution is planned to public and private elementary schools and to public libraries.

GC electors approve report

Acceptance of a report by Granite City Township Supervisor Nelson Hagauer listing revenue and disbursements in township accounts during the 1975-76 fiscal year was the only major business transacted at the annual town electors' meeting in the City Council Chambers Tuesday night.

The meeting, attended by approximately 30 persons, approved the report listing total expenses of $460,743 in all township accounts. The electors also approved a resolution authorizing the employment of a certified public accountant to audit township accounts and the town collector's accounts.

Fred Painter was elected moderator to serve during the meeting, which lasted only 20 minutes.

The town electors no longer approve township appropriation bills. These measures are handled by the Town Board, usually in June.

HONORED AT DEPAUL
Jayne Knobbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knobbe, 2 Frontenac, Granite City, has earned academic distinction on the Deans' List at DePaul University where she is a sophomore.

The scholastic recognition is extended to those students who earn at least a 3.5 (A-) or better grade average out of a possible 4.0 (straight A) average at the Greencastle, Ind., university.

THOMPSON CANCELS
Due to illness, Hunter S. Thompson, national affairs editor for "Rolling Stone," canceled his appearance at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, scheduled for April 13. Those who purchased tickets for the lecture may get a refund at the SIUE Ticket Office in the University Center, or by calling the office at 692-2320. The program may be rescheduled for later this year.

THIRD PLACE FINISHERS. Granite City High School South seniors (from left) Irvin Lee, Kevin Konzen, Jay Fedora and Mary Beatty are congratulated by Kent Carrell, president of the Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. Pi Mu Epsilon honorary mathematics society, after they captured third place in team competition for Class AA schools (more than 750 students) during the 19th annual Mathematics Field Day. Seven hundred students from 52 high schools took the two-hour competitive mathematical skills examination.

The Way It Was —

April 15 — On a journey to Canada, Benjamin Franklin writes, "I begin to apprehend that I have undertaken a fatigue that, at my time of life, may prove too much for me."

April 16 — Gen Artemus Ward fears that the Boston harbor has been left unprotected after the British departure, "that not 1,000 men in the area are fit for duty."

April 17 — Washington tries to receive more cooperation from the citizens of New York by writing the New York Committee of Safety, requesting wholehearted support.

April 18 — The British war sloop Glasgow arrives in Halifax, Nova Scotia, after a two-month cruise but does not unload her crew because the town was too small for accommodations.

Nameoki extends road tax

Nameoki Township electors Tuesday night at the township's annual meeting approved continuing the township's special hard road tax for another five years.

The electors, all registered voters in the township, attended the meeting, approved continuing the tax on a 45 to one vote, in secret balloting.

A bicentennial theme, several French regiments did arrive that year to aid the fight against the British.

Both changes were approved unanimously by the electors.

The electors nominated Joe Boyer and Jess Maxville to be moderator for the annual meeting. On a show of hands vote, Boyer won the moderator's seat 20 to 16. Boyer was sworn in by Auditor Norman Hessler who was acting clerk because Town Clerk Douglas Teetor had to work and was unable to attend the meeting.

The moderator appointed three judges for the special election, Anita Huckla, Ruth Andrews and Jess Maxville. Boyer noted the special tax of 16.5 cents per $100 assessed valuation for the special hard road fund is a tax already being paid and would not increase taxes.

Highway Commissioner Albert Bell said more than half the money received by the township highway department is from the special tax, which has to be approved by the electors each five years.

Whitell noted, "We can not exist without it. We must have it to maintain our roads." He cited Chouteau Township, which had to exist for two years, without the tax after the electors voted it down.

"The highway commissioner couldn't do his duty for two years until they voted it back in," Whitell commented. He added, "You, the electors, do get a voice as to whether you want these services or not."

KENNETH KLESH

Honored for university achievement

Mr. and Mrs. John Klesh, 97 Riviera Drive, have been notified by the University of Illinois Faculty Honors Council that their son, Kenneth W. Klesh, has achieved University Honors.

His name will be inscribed on a bronze tablet which is mounted permanently in the south corridor of the university library.

Students receiving the honor are those who have maintained a cumulative grade point average of 4.5 or better for all work undertaken at the university and residing on the basis of this average, in the top three per cent of the students in their graduating class.

The local student is enrolled in pre-medical school and has been elected to Phi Eta Sigma, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi.

After his graduation in May he will be employed at St. Elizabeth Hospital here, and in the fall will enter Northwestern University School of Medicine.

Two hurt in car crash

Two brothers were injured when their auto, turning from eastbound Pontoon Road south onto Breckenridge Lane in Pontoon Beach, went out of control, broke a fire hydrant and cracked a concrete ditch before coming to a halt at 2:10 a.m. Tuesday.

The driver, Gregory A. Rains, 18, of 138 Arlington Drive, Arlington Heights, said another car was following him so closely he was afraid to slow down while making the turn. The other car drove from the scene.

The driver suffered only minor injuries, but his brother, Chris Rains, 19, of the same address, a passenger in the car, suffered injuries to his right elbow and his nose and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was released after treatment and x-rays.

Another passenger in the car, Joseph Senter, 2524 Prope Ave., escaped serious injury.

Driver hurt, is charged

Mark D. Harris, 16, of 12 Meridian, Glen Carbon, was charged with reckless driving after his auto struck a utility pole on Lake Drive 600 feet south of Pontoon Road in Pontoon Beach at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Harris was injured and went to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7:45 a.m. Tuesday with bumps and abrasions to his forehead and a lip. X-rays were taken and Harris declined treatment.

School burglary

Only $13 was stolen during a burglary at the Russell Johnson Elementary School, 4225 Old Alton Road, which was discovered at 9 a.m. Tuesday. The north door was pried open to gain entry. Each room showed signs of having been searched and the teachers' desks were rummaged through.

A door to a storage room in the office was pried from the lock and a door to a storage room in the cafeteria also was pried open and the door knob was knocked off.

The money was stolen from a metal container in the cafeteria. Police found two sets of tennis shoe prints inside the school which may have been made by two burglars.

NAMED TO SPHINX CLUB
Brett Champion, 8 Frontenac Lane, is one of 16 tapped for membership in the Sphinx Club at Carbondale. Chosen on the basis of outstanding service to the university and community, new members are elected by active members of the club twice yearly. Started in the 1920s, the club is the oldest honorary organization for SIUC students.

Birds cause power outage

Residences and businesses in parts of the Nameoki area were without power for up to two hours Monday afternoon after equipment at the Pontoon Road substation near the Alton & Southern railroad tracks was shorted out.

An Illinois Power Co. spokesman said damage to the substation occurred when a number of birds flew into the station and some came in contact with equipment, causing insulators to burn out. The damage required a major repair job, the spokesman said.

Power was cut off at the K-Mart store, Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center and other businesses in the area. The incident occurred at 2:55 p.m. and repairs were completed at 4:50 p.m.

Venice man cut

Darnell Gregory, 27, of 1019 Market St., Venice, was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 1:05 a.m. Tuesday for treatment of a stab wound to the upper right arm. Police said Gregory was cut while visiting at a home at 529 Mercedia St. A 23-year-old Venice woman was questioned by police, who said yesterday that no charges have yet been filed.

Slim Talk to start evening sessions.

The Slim Talk program which started in January in Granite City will offer a new evening class in January in Granite City for those desiring to lose weight and attain an improved self-image. The new class will be in addition to the daytime sessions.

Mrs. Norma Fisher, who coordinates the program in the Quad-Cities, this week announced evening classes will start Thursday, April 22, in the Wiesman Room at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The evening sessions will continue each Thursday, with the doors opening for registration at 6:30. The program will be given from 7 to 8 p.m.

Daytime sessions are conducted each Wednesday at Hope Lutheran Church, 3715 Wabash Ave., from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m. Mrs. Fisher explained the Slim Talk concept as "more than a weight-reducing program. It is a philosophy through which each individual is encouraged to develop a personal philosophy of improved self-image and self-help to attain or maintain the image he or she desires."

Mrs. Jane Elliott of East Alton, Slim Talk founder and director, said the concept endeavored to create in each person a sophisticated decision-making process to end the depressing weight gain-loss-gain syndrome and enjoy permanent weight loss.

Before embarking on the Slim Talk regimen participants are urged to consult with his or her physician for approval. Several daily recommendations are made in the program, including regular eating habits, avoidance of specific foods and inclusion of others for a balanced diet.

A book authored by Mrs. Elliott contains recipes, menus and information concerning the program. Persons interested in learning more about Slim Talk are invited to attend a class session, or write Mrs. Fisher, 1401 Rodgers Ave., Alton, Ill. 62002, or call her at 1-462-0841.

Plans for the annual guest day brunch were reviewed. The event is scheduled for Wednesday, May 5 at the Nameski Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues.

The Garden Study Club will take part in the dedication of the Madison County Nature Trail entrance on Lake Drive, Saturday, April 24 at 10 a.m. It was announced. The Fair Oaks Junior Garden Club, sponsored by the senior club, also will participate.

Roll call was answered by giving pertinent facts about asparagus. Mrs. G. W. Stearns reported highlights of the annual district workshop at Fairview Heights.

Mrs. James Dawson of Elmhurst, Illinois state president, attended the meeting and banquet, she noted. Two former district presidents, Mrs. Judy Inselhardt and Mrs. Lillian Correll, provided the program.

Mrs. Wilmer Winter, club secretary and junior club advisor, gave a resume of the youthful gardeners' activities. Also reported was a invitation from the Lebanon Garden Club to attend a Blue Star memorial marker dedication May 31.

The traditional spring plant sale was conducted on the Smolch patio following the business session. Also present were Mesdames Rolla Grevell, Laura Maples, David Maxton, Delbert McKissick, Clifford Mang and Bert St. Ivany, vice-president, who is preparing the program for the ensuing club year.

Plans were finalized for a mother-daughter banquet, to be held May 6 at Sunset Hills Country Club.

Prior to the business meeting, Marshall Schroeder gave a slide presentation of the Mississippi River Festival (MRF) events. He is serving as MRF chairman of ticket coupon book sales for Quad-City area.

Others present were Mesdames Fred Barr, Earl Benoit, Pat Busch, Shirley Goff, Frank Kraus, Kurt Merz, George Cook, Kenneth Rapp, Jack Solberger and Charles Weiss.

Education topic of Chapter HT

Chapter HT of the PEO Sisterhood met Monday in the home of Mrs. E. F. Reiske for a dessert luncheon and business meeting.

President Mrs. Robert Backs presided and led a discussion on a continuing program of the PEO Sisterhood for "self-improvement" to help women complete their educational goals.

The project is designed especially for mature women. Since its inception five years ago there have been 507 grants given in this country and Canada, exceeding $125,000, it was noted. A program approximating the "whys and wherefores" of the Boston tea party, as seen through the eyes of Abigail Adams, was presented by Mrs. Arthur Buente.

The hostess served luncheon to 18 members and a guest. Mrs. Neal McIntosh, who is a member of Chapter BY of Marquette, Mich.

A spring party will be hosted by Mrs. B. J. Davis at the next regular meeting.

Others present were Mesdames Fred Barr, Earl Benoit, Pat Busch, Shirley Goff, Frank Kraus, Kurt Merz, George Cook, Kenneth Rapp, Jack Solberger and Charles Weiss.

Funeral directors' service satisfactory, survey shows

A nationwide study shows that nine out of ten persons who have arranged a funeral in recent years were well satisfied with the way funeral directors served them, according to a survey conducted by the National Funeral Directors Association.

The survey also found that 90 percent of the people who arranged a funeral in recent years were well satisfied with the way funeral directors served them, according to a survey conducted by the National Funeral Directors Association.

Most people feel that funeral directors' charges are "in line" rather than "high" or "low."

merchandise. The survey results substantiate what funeral directors and funeral director associations, both state and national, have been saying since the Federal Trade Commission started its inquiry into funeral practices, that the vast majority of Americans are well satisfied, both with their funeral directors and the services they offer, the report received here said.

Most respondents indicated that they selected their funeral director on the basis of the firm's reputation; secondly, because of personal acquaintance; and thirdly, because of convenience. Hardly anybody selected a funeral director because of his prices or advertising, according to the study.

Officials of the National Funeral Directors Association declared that this bears out their contention that the funeral is not just another commercial transaction as some federal government officials claim, but that it is an experience of real value to the bereaved in which funeral directors and the services they offer. And the best way to accomplish that was to query those who had arranged funerals in recent years, NFDA asserted.

Red tape—Uncle Sam given dose of his own medicine

By RICHARD L. LESHER
President
Chamber of Commerce of the United States
Lots of us gnash our teeth in frustration at the government "red tape" we have to cope with—especially managers of small businesses, who must fill out scores of forms for dozens of agencies. But few are ever lucky enough to exact vengeance in kind.

Mayor Ernest Angelo Jr. of Midland, Texas, got that chance.

Midland, it seems, had just been put through the federal mill. The city applied for funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development. It took eight months to get the application processed. You can imagine the mayor's pleasure, therefore, when HUD's regional office in Dallas asked for a reserved parking space at the Midland municipal airport.

Mayor Angelo replied (in part) as follows:

"1. You must obtain from the U.S. Government Printing Office, or the National Archives, or the Library of Congress, or someplace, a supply of application form COM-1978. You must submit three executed and 14 confirmed copies of this application.

"2. Along with the application submit the make and model of the proposed vehicle together with certified assurances that everyone connected with the manufacture, servicing and operation of same were paid according to a wage scale that complies with the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act.

"3. Submit a genealogical table for everyone who will operate said vehicle so that we can ascertain that there will be a precisely exact percentage of whites, blacks and other minorities, as well as women and the elderly.

"4. Submit certified assurances that this plan has been discussed at length with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission and submit that commission's certification that requirement 3 above has been fully complied with.

"5. Submit certified assurances that all operators of said vehicle and any filling station personnel that service same will be equipped with steel-toed boots, safety goggles and crash helmets and that the vehicle will be equipped with safety belts and an air bag to show compliance with the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

"6. Submit an Environmental Impact Statement. You will probably want to hire an expensive consultant to do this. "The statement should show the number of times the vehicle will be operated, times of day, the name of the operator, and the number of other vehicles that might be coming into or leaving the parking lot... as well as the number and type of aircraft that might be landing or taking off at the airport at the same time, and an exact conclusion as to the effect this will have on the atmosphere in West Texas.

"7. In order to obtain approval of a negative Environmental Impact Statement, you will not be able to:

"(a) operate the car on gasoline produced from domestic oil because that would require that someone discover, process it and deliver it, and it is possible that some private person, firm or corporation might realize a profit.

"(b) operate the car from energy produced by coal because this might require digging a hole in the ground...

"Submit a certificate from the attorney general of the United States that all of the certifiers of the above assurances are duly and legally authorized by Congress and the President to make this application, and that the United States of America is a duly organized and legally existing independent nation with the full right, power and authority to operate automobiles in the first place.

"Upon receipt of the foregoing, rest assured that the application will be promptly referred to someone for approval.

"We cannot state at this time who that someone will be because whatever department he or she is in will be undergoing a process of reorganization..."

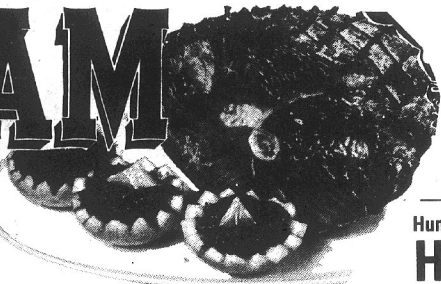

Despite the remarkable similarity between Midland's red tape and Washington's, there is an important difference: Mayor Angelo was only kidding. The federal government isn't.

No way to succeed in foosball without really trying, weekend warriors report

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville was the host of the first National Intercollegiate Table Soccer Championship, conducted last week by the Association of College Unions International (ACU).

Thirty-two participants came to SIUE from all over the nation to participate. They composed two-man teams from each of the ACU regions that had advanced through their own campus and regional tournaments.

The tournament was sponsored by the Dynamo Corp. of Grand Prairie, Tex., foosball table builders and foosball tournament promoters.

Table soccer, more commonly known as foosball, was said to be "sweeping the country."

Foosball — the German word for football — has European origins from the 1800s. It takes in elements of football, soccer and hockey, and it is sometimes said that the game takes on the logic of chess.

Foosball is played on a table set up like a soccer field. There are 11 miniature players on each team. The first row has five players; the second row, three; the third row, two; and the fourth row, the goalie.

Each row of players is on a steel rod, which has a handle on the outside of the table for the player to use as a control.

On a two-person team, the first and third lines of players are controlled by one person, and the second and fourth by the other person.

A small ball, somewhat like a ping pong ball, is dropped in the middle of the table. Each team tries to put it in its goal, which is at the opposite end of the table — as in football, soccer or hockey.

Quick reflexes and intense concentration are essential.

Several different methods of scoring are used when a tournament is played.

The ACU tournament at SIUE used the double elimination method; two teams played to win three games out of five, according to Charles Walker, promotion manager for Dynamo.

The 16 two-man teams played, and eight of these were eliminated after the first round of games. Those teams played and four were eliminated, and so on," he noted.

The skill required in order to be proficient in foosball makes it challenging to its most avid fans, according to tournament participants.

Although some of the contestants were only "weekend players," many of the young men had practiced many hours before the tournament.

"I used to play on the average of 10 hours per week before the tournament began," said Gary Childers of Arizona State University. "Any other time, I play at least three times a week."

Walker said there are two different kinds of tables being used in America. "The ones used in the northern United States are European models, with a slick top which comes from the continent."

"The ones we make are known as Dallas tables, which have a perforated top. This makes playing a little easier because it allows the players to make more diversified shots," he said.

The grand prize here went to Courtland Lowe and Earl Long of Georgia Tech, Atlanta. They were awarded a large trophy for their school and individual trophies.

Second place went to Derric Skaggs and Rodney Smith of Oklahoma State College, Stillwater, Okla., and third place was awarded to Mark Mead and Rick Buchheit of Shoreline Community College, Shoreline, Wash.

Education in India topic at fellowship luncheon

The Rev. John F. Seibert, pastor of three Alton area churches, related his experiences as a missionary to India for 17 years, and in particular his role as principal and treasurer of the Sangli Industrial School, at the annual Maundy Thursday fellowship luncheon held at the First United Presbyterian Church today.

Taking part in the annual observance were members of the Granite City Kiwanis, Madison Lions, Granite City and Madison-Venice Rotary Clubs and the Granite City Optimist Club.

Rev. Seibert spoke at noon followed by a 12:35 p.m. luncheon and fellowship social hour with the Rev. David B. Maxton, as host pastor.

The speaker commented the community, in India, at first resented what they termed his interference in their lives with the creation of the school for boys. After he was able to activate the interest of the parents and they realized the advantages of the training for boys, the entire project was accepted.

By proving the training did give the boys an opportunity for improvement making a living and being educated in a particular field, the officials of the Indian community also supported the program.

The Rev. Seibert served at the school for most of his years in India.

Frank 'Sally' Johnson services held Monday

Private funeral services were held Monday for Frank J. "Sally" Johnson, 87, owner of the former Johnson's Roller Rink in downtown Granite City and a former marathon runner.

Mr. Johnson died Saturday at the Colonnades nursing home where he had resided three years.

During his life, he received much publicity, including a feature article in the Press-Record Sept. 2, 1971, which a member of his family noted he cherished and read over on many occasions.

Portions of that article, which detailed many highlights of Mr. Johnson's life, follow:

The nickname "Sally" was given the athlete in 1900 by the late Frank Magnus of Granite City, a well known sandlot baseball pitcher. Johnson used to catch for Magnus and to spark the pitcher would call encouragements.

"Come on Maggie," and "put it in there, Maggie" were familiar calls to Johnson who watched the pair in action.

Magnus apparently disliked his nickname and in return began calling his catcher "Sally," in an attempt to get Johnson to drop the "Maggie" nickname. The name finally stuck and many still refer to the former athlete by the nickname.

In 1908, Johnson discovered a skating rink over a St. Louis saloon and began skating there. "Learning to roller skate was the luckiest thing I've ever done. It got into my blood," he recalled.

"I would go skating as often as I could scratch up enough money, usually three or four times a week," he commented.

The following year, several local businessmen pooled their capital and constructed a roller skating rink at 16th and State streets in Granite City. Johnson became a regular at the rink and began racing other local skaters.

"In a short time I could beat all of them so I started entering skating races in St. Louis," Johnson said. By his 25th birthday he had raced at rinks in Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis and Ohio.

He broke the world 10-mile skating speed record and entered two world championships, failing to qualify for the finals in one in Cincinnati and placing sixth in a St. Louis world championship.

In 1908, while breaking into the roller skating "big time," Johnson was playing right field for the Good Luck Cubs at Washington Park and made his first attempt at marathon running.

"Labor Day has always been a lucky day for me and all of my big trophies were won on that day," the runner recalls.

Labor Day of that year earned him his first big trophy as he defeated three Chicago runners and five St. Louis runners in a St. Louis Hardware Dealer's 10-mile race. In a later race he defeated Joe Erlebein, then the top runner in the Missouri Athletic Club, to become one of the top runners in St. Louis.

Headlines in 1909 fluctuated, "Johnson Wins Distance Race," "Joe Erlebein Wins Star's Marathon," "Frank Johnson Again in Front," "Johnson Second in 7-Mile Run—Local Boy Again Beaten By Joe Erlebein" and "Frank Johnson of Granite City And Erlebein Run Dead Heat."

One early race between the pair was described in 1909: "It

His wife, the former Miss Clara Grothjahn, married him in 1910. "She was wonderful," Johnson commented. "Whenever I'd mention a race, she'd tell me if it was what I wanted to do, then to do it," he added.

The thrill of marathon running began to wear a bit but after 10 years so Johnson began looking for a new hobby. He recalled the American Legion had a portable dance hall that had been moved from Granite City to Venice. After it became too rough for dancing, he offered to rent it for a roller skating rink.

"That had always been my dream, to start a rink," he said. He purchased used skates from other rinks and went into business. With the help of his sons, Frank Jr., Harry Grothjahn, and his daughter, Alice, he operated the makeshift rink three summers. In 1938 he purchased a tent and set up a summer tent rink across from the high school for five years.

He then rented a dance hall at 18th and State streets and operated there several more seasons. During the period, he and the late Henry Flaxbeard of Granite City teamed up and bought the building which housed the Granite City Diamond Jubilee Headquarters at 1800 Edison Ave.

They set up a permanent rink there which they and their families operated until 1946, when the Johnson Roller Rink was constructed at 1823 Cleveland Blvd.

"It was the high point of my life when that rink opened," the skater commented.

Johnson's retirement from marathon racing was interrupted only once during this period when three St. Louis sportswriters called him and begged him to represent St. Louis in C. C. Pyle's famous Trans-Continental foot race from Los Angeles to New York.

"I hadn't run in about 10 years but when they asked me to do it I said sure on the spot without a moment's hesitation," Johnson recalled.

He immediately went into training for the long race, then left for Los Angeles for three weeks of training for the 3,400 mile trek. Qualifying included a run of 80 miles after which each runner was examined by three doctors before being allowed to enter the race.

On Sunday, March 4, 1928, 252 runners left the Ascot Speedway in Los Angeles, hoping to reach New York 75 days later.

Johnson marched through Needles, Ariz., and on into Albuquerque, N. M., leaving there with swollen feet and ankles.

A famous interview with his wife after the race and been reprinted in Robert Smith's book, "The Grantland Rice Award Prize Sports Stories" in which she told a newsman,

"You may think he's healthy, but that's just sunburn that makes him look that way. He's hollow from head to heel. I can't prepare enough food for him."

"You should have seen him when he got home. His left ankle was swollen to twice its normal size. His lips were cracked so badly they bled when he tried to eat. His nose was blistered and he hobbled like a cripple."

Smith entitled the chapter on the race, "The Wonderful Bunion Derby," she stated.

After about 936 miles, Johnson stopped in a drug store outside of Albuquerque and was eating when two local doctors approached him, examined his ankles and advised him to quit. "I stuck it out one more day and quit," the runner stated. He completed 981 miles and was among only 85 still running when he resigned from the event.

Johnson returned, a local sports hero, and settled into the semi-quiet life of a roller skating rink operator. His wife died in 1947, shortly after the Johnson Roller Rink was constructed and he managed the rink himself until 1958, when he sold it to the Stopkotte family which still operates it.

Mr. Johnson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Maynard (Alice) Davidson of Granite City; a son, Frank Johnson of Fairview Heights; four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Expect McKinley bridge to become major artery

The McKinley Bridge spanning the Mississippi river from Venice to St. Louis soon will become one of the major, if not the major bridge for truck and auto traffic to and from the St. Louis area, Duane Georgeff, bridge manager, told the Venice Council Tuesday night. He said three major projects currently under way will enhance the bridge operation.

They are: The Broadway relocation and underpass project which will eliminate waiting for trains; completion of federal Aid Route 151 from Granite City to Venice and repair and resurfacing of the bridge itself.

Arthur Kottenhof, resident engineer for the underpass and relocation project, reported to the council:

"During the past two weeks the contractor has completed work worth approximately $44,000, leaving work still uncompleted of approximately $330,000; which indicates that 64 per cent of the $374,000 contract is completed. Progress has improved during the last month.

"On Monday the contractor began pavement removal activities as necessary to make the east-bound connection to the McKinley Bridge. However, he experienced difficulty with the pavement breaker machine and has now decided to use a headache ball. As of now today he had not yet gotten this into operation," Kottenhof said.

Georgeff reported that plans for repairs to the southeast approach to the bridge on the Illinois side are being studied by Hardy and Hanover, New York consulting bridge engineers.

The repairs will call for the lifting of the span, filling in with earth and concrete underneath and laying a new deck.

"Traffic will continue to flow in two lanes during the repairs. The project is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $300,000, with funds coming from Federal Community Development monies and the McKinley bridge fund.

BICENTENNIAL SYMBOLS. Third grade students of St. Mark and St. Mary schools in Madison and Venice have made wall hangings to mark the nation's 200th anniversary and have placed them on display at the Madison Public Library. This hanging was made by the third-grade boys and bears Patrick Henry's slogan: "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death." The girls made a wall hanging depicting a flag and bearing the wording: "Betsy Ross Knew How to Sew."

Make Bicentennial symbols

Bicentennial wall hangings made by third grade students at St. Mark and St. Mary schools in Madison and Venice have been placed on display at the Madison Public Library. The students were supervised in the projects by their teacher, Mrs. Tommie Stimac.

The girls glued colored yarn on burlap backing depicting a flag and the wording: "Betsy Ross Knew How to Sew," and the boys attached the wording of Patrick Henry's slogan, "Give Me Liberty or Give Me Death," on their banner, along with a shield, a drum and a liberty bell.

Annual hunt for eggs Saturday at park rink

Magazine ban unfortunate due to its arbitrary nature and the danger of excesses in suppressing freedom of thought

The Ponton Beach Village Board voted April 9 to ban sale or delivery of publications appealing to prurient interests. On balance, the sudden enactment—suspending rules that would have given the public time to react—appears to be well-intentioned but unfortunate.

Village Attorney Paul Guzzardo said he used a relatively new Belleville ordinance as his example. It has been applied in Belleville against such magazines as Playboy, and a book store owner and employee there have been convicted and fined.

At the risk of "protesting too much," we can say we are not addicted to foul language, either in this newspaper or in daily conversation. Since we seldom say anything in print worse than "heck" or "damn," we cannot relate fully to the magazine trend to say anything and everything as often as possible.

But while we would prefer to avoid some of the excesses of the magazines, it seems unpleasantly oppressive for five men sitting around a Village Hall table to decree that various monthly publications are so lacking in merit that they must be kept from all eyes, including those of consenting adults. The door to dictatorial municipal action was opened by a U.S. Supreme Court opinion mentioning "community standards." We don't know how much sampling of community views took place here, but even if a majority was in favor we doubt the fairness of forcing conformity on the minority.

It would be as silly for us to argue for obscenity as it would be to talk against motherhood or the flag or apple pie. We're against the one and for the three. The problem is in defining it—and in deciding on whose shoulders the power to define and decide should be vested. Book-burning episodes in the past show that zealous suppression is hard to contain once unleashed.

Playboy publishes many serious works—including, for example, some of the Watergate exposes at a time when they were not as popular as today.

A wide range of public figures, including such Presidential hopefuls as California Governor Jerry Brown, have seen fit to appear in its pages.

In a series of a few years ago, Playboy described as "pious pornographers" many of the leading women's magazines, showing how they utilized the same words and subjects as men's publications while disguising the purpose of certain articles. A few current detective magazines also appear to approach the borders of good taste. Are women's and detective magazines to be prohibited next in Ponton Beach? Time and Newsweek occasionally show nudity; will they be banned? How about Esquire, once considered risqué but now catering primarily to intellectual stimulation?

Coincidentally, the Wall Street Journal in its lead article Tuesday discussed the Playboy empire in detail and concluded that in a few years the magazine is likely to become more like the sedate Esquire than like any of Playboy's present competitors.

St. Louis reviewers voiced critical acclaim for George Carlin's weekend performance, noting that the audience was almost unanimous in accepting the comedian's free-wheeling language.

With movies also making a fetish these days of four-letter words, there have been half-joking predictions that shock words may lose so much of their impact that naughty words will have to be invented.

Personally I hate to see language fall to its lowest common denominator and we would prefer that America rally around the views of the National Broadcasting Company's Edwin Newman, who calls for renewed dedication to English as it ought to be spoken and written.

But we would hesitate to try to force others to mirror our thinking, and we are not sure election to public office vests so much wisdom in the officeholder that he knows without question what's best for everybody.

Our dictionary says "obscene" is disgusting, repulsive, coarse, abhorrent to morality or virtue, and designed to incite to lust or depravity. As Newman has noted, words tend to change in meaning over the years, and there were some people who called 1974-75 oil company profit levels obscene.

If Ponton Beach officials are going to sit in judgment in a way that veers so closely toward abridging citizens' First Amendment rights, one wonders whether some village residents may judge that the board's indifference to the continuing magazine parlor issue is obscene—and whether the board's April 9 endorsement of non-competitive supply purchases of $1,499 or less may be judged as obscene by hard-pressed taxpayers.

Republicans outnumbered but there's still hope for 2-party system in state

By KEN WATSON
SPRINGFIELD—Is the two-party system still healthy in Illinois?

That has become a topic for discussion in the wake of the primary in which Democrats appear to have outvoted Republicans by a margin of better than 2 to 1.

The disparity once again has raised the question, as was the case in 1972, as to whether large numbers of usually Republican voters crossed over to vote for one of the two Democratic candidates for governor.

Republican State Chairman Don Adams noted that he is skeptical of the crossover theory, but is making a survey to find out if there is any substance to it.

In Springfield just about anyone can give names of persons he knows who have defected from Republican ranks to cast a Democratic ballot.

But in this Capital City politics is an extremely emotional as well as a day-to-day business, and the last governor primary year in 1972.

Then a total of 665,412 Republican votes were cast, 46,000 fewer than this year. There was no serious Republican contest for governor last year and there was speculation that many Republicans crossed over to vote for Dan Walker, but that was probably not typical of the state as a whole.

Those who question the crossover theory can point to a comparison with the last governor primary year in 1972. Then a total of 665,412 Republican votes were cast, 46,000 fewer than this year. There was no serious Republican contest for governor last year and there was speculation that many Republicans crossed over to vote for Dan Walker, but that was probably not typical of the state as a whole.

sition in not ruling out a possible future increase in the state income tax. Even those who conceded there had been a sizable GOP crossover vote in 1972 had predicted in advance of the Tuesday balloting that it wouldn't happen this year because Republican voters would stay with their own party in order to vote in the presidential primary.

However, interest in the presidential contest diminished sharply over the week-end preceding the election when polls and forecasts showed President Ford far ahead of Ronald Reagan. Atty. Gen. William J. Scott is among those who believe this factor may have influenced some Republican voters to take sides in the battle between Democrats Gov. Walker and Secretary of State Michael J. Hawick.

Republicans did have a governor contest at the time, but interest in it faded as Richard Cooper ceased campaigning toward the end and conceded the nomination to James R. Thompson.

Many Republicans apparently felt obligated to stay within the party and cast a vote for the popular Thompson. He wound up receiving more than 600,000 votes or about 80 per cent, to only 96,639 or 14 per cent for Cooper.

On the Democratic side, Hawick received about 800,000 votes or 54 per cent compared to about 680,000 or 46 per cent for Thompson. It probably is more significant, however, that the Republican vote this year was not far below that cast in the 1968 primary when there was no reason for any crossovers and the GOP had a lively gubernatorial fight of its own.

That was the year in which Richard B. Ogilvie defeated John Henry Horner, 338,725 to 298,904 or by 49,821 votes. The total Republican primary vote was 739,675. Although there were no contests on the Democratic side, the Democrats still outvoted Republicans with a total of 83,408.

Because of the tight discipline maintained by Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's organization, Democrats have for years consistently polled far larger primary votes than the Republicans.

An exception was in 1964. That was the year in which GOP conservatives rallied behind U.S. Sen. Barry M. Goldwater for president. Goldwater's name was on the Illinois ballot and he had opposition from then Maine Sen. Margaret Chase Smith.

Goldwater won 512,840 to 269,521 for Smith and there were written votes for seven other candidates. There was also a lively race for the GOP nomination for governor when U.S. Rep. Charles H. Percy defeated William J. Scott by 626,111 to 368,563.

The Republicans outvoted the Democrats by about 30,000 votes, 1,092,621 to 1,062,621. But last year Republicans have been high.

Waterways tax could boost cost of living for area

By CONG. JOSEPH M. GAYDOS of Pennsylvania
Over the past 20 years, a variety of proposals for waterways user charges have been advanced in Congress. These tend to attract some support because, at first glance, they seem to be a source of additional federal revenues.

But an in-depth analysis of the economic impact of any waterways user tax indicates that the devastating and expensive long-range effects clearly outweigh the advantages of some additional revenues.

This issue is once again before Congress. H.R. 8500, "The Waterway User Tax Act of 1975," would increase the tax on petroleum products, but it would not, instead adversely affect industry, agriculture, the economy, energy conservation and community life.

Supporters of the waterways user tax believe this legislation is necessary in order to recover some of the cost of federally improved and maintained waterways and harbors.

This, they contend, would put surface transportation—primarily railroad and trucking—on a more competitive basis with waterway carrying.

But the fact is that the federal and state government spend vastly more on highway transportation than they do on waterway financing, and have provided huge land grants and other assistance to railroads.

In fiscal year 1974, a total of $348 million in federal funds went to new construction, operations and maintenance of shallow draft segments of waterways.

For that same year, the highways received a total of $5.6 billion, $12 billion from federal taxes and $4.4 billion from state and local governments.

The railroad industry has been very vocal in supporting the waterway user charge. I believe this is not because they hope to capture waterborne freight accounts so much as they yearn to raise their charges. Eliminating the restraining influence of competitive, low-cost waterway transportation is certainly to their distinct advantage.

The problem, however, is that the U.S. economy is still lagging and it desperately needs the expansion of both railroad and waterway transportation.

The stakes are very high in this issue. Toll-free inland waterways hold down the cost of living because their efficiency and low cost are essential to many basic industries that serve as the country's economic backbone.

In the opinion of many experts, waterborne transportation is a relatively superior mode of bulk commodity transportation because it is relatively less energy intensive, safer for employees and the public, less of a pollution risk, and cost efficient. The imposition of a waterways user tax would mean that agricultural shipments to the Midwest and feed grains to the Southeast for poultry businesses would suffer.

The cost of farming would skyrocket, since fertilizer and insecticides are primarily waterborne cargoes.

Presently, the petroleum industry is a substantial user of waterways for transportation of its products because of its low cost.

The imposition of a waterways user tax could well increase the cost so that the petroleum industry would divert most if not all shipments to pipeline transmission, which is now more expensive than waterborne transport.

This would result in increased cost for the high-consumption users, such as farmers, as well as consumers in general.

The coal and steel industries would be most adversely affected. They would have to pay approximately $2 million tons of coal per year, one-fifth of the nation's total coal output.

It is bizarre to think that a user charge might be imposed at a time when coal is fast becoming an increasingly important domestic energy resource.

The steel industry, which already faces serious difficulties, would experience further adversity. Iron and steel plants now receive 22 million tons of materials and fuels by barge and 80 million tons via the Great Lakes.

Economists estimate that 5 to 6 million tons of finished steel products move from mill to customer by barge each year. This steel has a value exceeding $600 million.

A waterways user tax could well mean a substantial loss of sales to foreign competition.

Furthermore, waterways user tax would impair the position of American industries, as a whole, against foreign competition by reducing exports and encouraging imports and upsetting the U.S. balance of payments.

The historically free waterways serve as a vital link in the nation's industrial structure.

Industries and communities have sprouted and thrived near these inland waterways in the assumption that they would always be "common highways and forever free, without any tax, impost or duty therefor."

In an era when national leaders profess to be dedicated to spurring economic growth, strengthening the position of the United States as an industrial leader, and promoting energy self-reliance, the waterways user tax is a sharp contradiction—and an unforgivable injustice to producers and consumers.

Child, Family Services Bill is called target of smear campaign

By CAROL KIMMEL
National PTA President

In recent months, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers has become alarmed about the smear campaign being conducted against the proposed Child and Family Services Bill.

Misinformation about the bill and its intent have been widely circulated, mostly in the form of unsigned representations.

Because the bill's central purpose—the strengthening of family life, and the provision of quality services to children—has always been our central purposes too, we feel compelled to set the record straight.

The public should know the true intent of the bill, and how it will actually affect families.

To help clarify the meaning of this legislation, we are enclosing an article from "PTA Today," the National Association's newsletter.

This article seeks to dispel some of the misrepresentations that have developed about the bill, and to demonstrate why its passage is one of our primary legislative priorities for 1976.

Have you heard or read any of these comments about the proposed Child and Family Services Act?

This bill provides for the Socialization of the American family.

"This takes the responsibility of raising children off the shoulders of the parents and gives it to the government."

"This bill undermines the family as the basic unit of the society."

Is it possible that a bill with such aims is supported by the American Academy of Pediatrics, the U.S. Catholic Conference, the United Methodist Church, the American Home Economics Association, The National Association for Retarded Children, the National Council on the Handicapped, the National Council of Jewish Women, the United Church of Christ, the Baptist Churches, and, among others, the National PTA?

Have all these organizations who feel that this legislation would strengthen the family life been so misled?

Although opinion on legislation rarely changes, the opposition to this bill has gone beyond normal disagreement.

Many of the charges are based on questionable information and tactics. Look at a few of these charges, and at their relations.

1. Is the bill "destructive of American family life?" The bill itself states that "the family is the primary and most fundamental influence on child development, and that "child and family services must build upon and strengthen the role of the family and must be provided on a voluntary basis only to children whose parents request them."

Clearly, the bill is voluntary, and designed to protect the family unit.

2. Does the bill include a "Charter of Children's Rights" or a "Child Advocacy" clause, both of which are referred to in much of the anonymous printed material in opposition to this bill?

No! A "Child Advocacy" clause, which supposedly would permit a government advocate to enter the home, direct the child's education, and transfer the authority of the home to the state, is not advocated by any of the 100 Congressional co-sponsors of this bill; moreover, no such language appears in the bill.

The Charter of Children's Rights, developed by the British Advisory Council for Civil Liberties, is the operating organization which does not exist in the United States.

Statements from it have not been proposed, included, or even considered as a part of the Child and Family Services Bill. Herein, as you will see, lies a legislative lesson.

In Congressional debate in 1971 on another bill, a senator referred to this Charter to indicate the extreme suggestions of some child advocates in England (see Congressional Record, Dec. 2, 1971).

This series of comments on the British Charter has been repeated in the U.S. House of Representatives and the U.S. Senate, although nothing in the bill warrants that connection.

Further, citations of material appearing in the Congressional Record may be misleading, since any congressman can insert any material in the Record, without vouching for its relevance or accuracy.

3. Does the bill change parent and child relationships and the legal relationship between parents and children?

In fact, it states, "Nothing in this Act shall be construed or applied in such a manner as to infringe upon or usurp the moral and legal rights and responsibilities of parents or children."

Moreover, the bill does not provide for compulsory preschool education, and prohibits any medical or psychological examination or treatment without the express written permission of the parents.

With these errors clarified, the question nevertheless remains: Why do parents and children need this bill? Some of the reasons follow.

There are only one million spaces in licensed day-care homes to serve the needs of six million preschool children whose mothers are already in the work force.

The infant mortality rate in the United States, despite our wealth and education, is now higher than that of 13 other nations.

Forty per cent of our young people are not yet fully immunized against childhood diseases.

An estimated 200,000 children are struck each year by physical handicaps that could have been prevented if their mothers had received early health care.

Sixty-five per cent of all handicapped preschool children are not receiving special services for children of working mothers.

The Child and Family Services bill (S. 626 and H.R. 2966) proposes a totally voluntary program which will authorize funding for local communities and parent organizations in the areas of prenatal health care, medical treatment to detect and remedy handicaps, nutrition programs, and a variety of day-care services for children of working mothers.

Many of these services will be available to special groups, such as migrant and bilingual children, already receiving special attention from the PTA.

What for? Care will be based on family size and ability to pay. The bill states, "The family is the primary and most fundamental influence on child development... and child and family services must build upon and strengthen the role of the family."

That is why the PTA—an organization whose essential goal is the strengthening of family life and concern for the welfare of children—supports this bill.

That is why Child and Family Services is one of four legislative priorities chosen by the National PTA Board of Managers for special attention in 1975-1976.

And that is why PTA members should carefully scrutinize attacks on this bill to determine whether the outcries reflect honest differences of opinion or ill-considered and inaccurate information.

Congratulations to Mr. Fisk, Mr. McManaway and Mr. Boyer on their victory in the Board of School District election.

I do not envy them their jobs, for they have a tremendous task ahead of them. If I can be of any assistance, they can be assured that I will render it.

In special thanks to you and the Granite City Press-Record for providing a forum for discussion of the issues

Because of the space you allocated, the real winners in the election Saturday were the people. They were made thoroughly aware of the issues and were able to make a decision with that knowledge in mind.

Persistent garbage problem reported

To the Editor:
Has anyone driven or walked through the alley in the 2600 block between Madison and Iowa? If not, you should see the tops in local city trash dumps.

Two years or more, this mess has littered the neighborhood right up and down the alley and into yards.

For more than two years, the neighbors have tried to have this mess cleaned up, to no avail. It seems there is nothing we can do about it, no matter who you talk to, and we have tried everyone.

Someone straightens it up a little after a complaint or two and then back to normal again, until the neighbors can't take the trash and smell any longer and complain again.

We have refused to clean up outside our fence. Lines are drawn, and the neighbors are in the age bracket where it is impossible to go out every day and clean up someone else's trash. There are no facilities to deposit trash from that many people in one complex. The rest of the neighbors' trash is the least bit out of order, the sanitation department just pick up what is easy.

Yet, week after week, these torn bags and poorly packed trash are picked up, the best they can do with rotten garbage oozing out.

Summer is just great, with warm weather, but the ground, week after week and month after month, with the odor, bugs and rats.

This trash does not belong to surrounding neighbors. Their trash is put out for collection the afternoon of the pickup, neatly packaged.

2600 BLOCK RESIDENT

Benton improvement long overdue

To the Editor:
The "Forgotten street" is Benton Street from 27th Street to Peeling Road.

In September 1971, this street was surveyed, and a bid call for improvement of Benton Street from 27th Street to Peeling Road was made for a cost estimate of $190,071. The street is to be curbed and blacktopped.

The traffic on this street is terrific, and it was estimated it would eliminate 1600 cars a day.

When it rains, water stands in the street, and it is a nuisance to the residents who live on the sidewalk, you get an unwanted shower of dirty water, which is appalling, to say the least. I called this to the attention of Street Supt. Portell and he assured me that the street was taken care of. As of today, nothing has been done.

This water problem could be eliminated easily by grading the shoulders.

We all pay high taxes, and it's about time something was done. RAYMOND TAYLOR

State should serve cities, omit frills, run-arounds—Thompson

James R. Thompson, Republican nominee for governor, during the weekend proposed improving the Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs to "make it more effective for dealing with the problems faced by Illinois municipalities."

Thompson said that during his campaign throughout the state he has received many complaints and criticisms concerning the way the department is operated.

"I am told the department confuses rather than enlightens. I am told, too, that its good advice is often negated by misinformation or contradictory advice and counsel."

"I have often heard the complaint that they have no comprehensive and detailed plan for truly assisting local governments with problems in areas such as accounting, auditing and the use of federal revenue sharing funds," Thompson said.

In a speech before the Southern Illinois Mayors Association at Olney Central College, the former United States attorney said the department needs to change its philosophy from one of regionalism to one that confronts the real needs of local governments.

He said that the department should serve a unique role in state government:

"It exists, almost exclusively, to assist local governments. It does not provide services to people directly, but rather services other units of government."

Thompson said that as governor he would work to change the direction of the department to improve its function.

"I want it to fulfill its mission directly, without frills, without using federal funds to enhance the image of the governor or the department's director, or the department itself."

Thompson said the department should work much more closely with the mayors of Illinois.

"You are the men and women who can benefit most from the services the department can offer and I don't want a department with a stand-offish attitude," he said.

He said the Department of Local Government Affairs should be reorganized in order to assist smaller units of government in coping with technical and management needs for day-to-day administration.

He said it should assist local units of government in preparing and expediting federal and state program applications and making sure that local officials know of the potential benefits their communities might receive from specific programs.

"The department should have an on-line computer program to identify federal programs for local officials," Thompson said.

"Mayors should have greater access to state officials and agencies."

"I don't want mayors or anyone else to get the run-around, either when they are calling for help or information."

"I want state officials to understand local problems and I want them to do their best to respond to your needs."

Thompson said the idea of a toll-free "hot-line" should be reconsidered. He said such a hot-line telephone system would be available to public officials to rapidly answer questions, offer guidance for contacting appropriate state or federal agencies, or arrange meetings to iron out specific problems. "We also need to re-examine our efforts to develop a talent bank of professionals within state government, whose skills are needed by local units of government."

The former federal prosecutor said he has started to put together a nonpartisan volunteer task force to closely examine state government and "determine why it has fallen into disrepair."

Thompson said the state also should take the lead in discovering innovative ways to resolve the doctor shortage and to improve economic development in Southern Illinois.

Found guilty

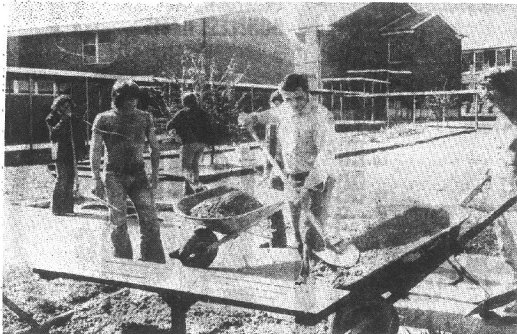

Michael Kozuch, 24, of the 3200 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, has been found guilty in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville of armed robbery and is to be sentenced May 14.

Kozuch was found guilty in a bench trial before Circuit Judge Moses Harrison II. He allegedly used a gun to take less than $100 from an attendant at the Clark Service Station, Highway 111 and 162, Feb. 11.

Outdoor benches at South High School

Sixteen benches have been set up in the beautification area of Granite City High School South. The benches have been made by vocational shop classes and have been paid for by the Student Council.

The benches were first designed by Steve Brown of the Vocational department last fall.

Since then, South and North students enrolled in buildings trades have been working on the benches. Supports were made by Paul McCord's welding classes.

During the past week, the buildings trades classes have been setting up the benches and doing finish work.

The benches have been imbedded in concrete slabs. As the slabs dry, each is inscribed with a name.

"The boys, using stencils, are going to spray paint a name on each slab," said Larry King, buildings trades teacher.

Alan Benko, student superintendent, said, "Each bench will be named by the boy who made it. One will be dedicated to Mr. King and will be named King's Castle."

Other names include Benko's Bench, Allen's Alley, Lynn's Inn, Ed's Shed and Dave's Joint.

"We have enjoyed working on these benches. They got us out of the basement and into the open," Benko concluded.

The benches are another step of a beautification project started several years ago. Lori Winters heads the student council committee this year.

Ross named to state board

Governor Dan Walker has appointed Henry W. Ross of Granite City a member of the Illinois Educational Facilities Authority. It was announced Wednesday.

Ross is president of the Henry Ross Construction Co. He is a director of the new Colonial Bank of Granite City and is a member of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

GUNSHOTS TO AUTO

John Capps, 2324 Madison Ave., reported during the weekend that nine shots from a .22 rifle were fired into the left rear of his auto, parked at his home on April 2. He said shots were heard that night, but he discovered the damage later.

April 25 walkathon to boost march of Dimes

A 10-mile walkathon to help raise money to fight birth defects will be staged in Granite City on Sunday, April 25, under supervision of local March of Dimes leaders.

Mrs. Wilma Herring, Granite City March of Dimes chairman, said the walkathon, starting at the Wilson Park rink, is being sponsored jointly by the Student Councils at Granite City North and South high schools.

Ralph Barker at South High and Harry Cook at North are the faculty members helping to coordinate the student project. Those wishing to take part in the walkathon may obtain a registration-sponsors' form at local schools, or from Herring Flowers and Gifts, 2700 Madison Ave.

The organizers explained that participants obtain a form and secure as many pledges from friends, neighbors and local business people as possible who agree to pay a specific amount per mile for the number of miles recorded by the "walker."

The amount of a pledge can vary from 10 cents to $20 per mile and the number of sponsors donating different amounts is not restricted.

For example, Mrs. Herring said, a participant who signs a family member to sponsor him at 50 cents per mile and two neighbors who agree to pay 10 cents a mile each, will earn a total of 70 cents a mile, or $7 if the entire 10 mile distance is completed.

After the walkathon is over, the participant's card is stamped and presented to his sponsors who, in turn, donate the amount agreed upon to the March of Dimes, Mrs. Herring explained.

Walkers will gather before 1 p.m. April 25 at the Wilson Park rink starting point and continue

FIRE AT TAVERN
Trash and wood near the Wayside Tavern, 21st Street and Niedringhaus Ave., was set on fire by someone during the weekend and the fire caught the back porch of the tavern on fire, causing about $100 damage. Granite City firemen were on the scene 35 minutes.

Howlett favors ending age limit on education of citizens in Illinois

There should be no age limit to the American ideal of a free, common school education for all, Michael J. Howlett, Democratic nominee for governor, said during the weekend.

Howlett was the luncheon speaker at a joint conference of the Illinois Adult Education Association and the Public Adult Continuing Educators of Illinois at Chicago.

"Article Ten of our new Illinois Constitution fixes a fundamental goal as the educational development of all persons to the limit of their capacities," said Howlett. "It doesn't say all children, as the old 1870 Constitution did."

"The 1970 Constitution goes on to say that education in public schools through the high school level shall be free. It says further that the state has primary responsibility for financing the system of public education."

"Despite these constitutional provisions, our Illinois school code fixes at 21 the age beyond which there is no obligation to provide a full common school education."

"At a time when enrollment is declining in our public schools it might be reasonable to re-examine the need for this age requirement."

"I do not say we should have unlimited adult education for free. I say only that adults are entitled to the amount of education guaranteed by the Constitution."

"We now have fewer than three million children in Illinois elementary and high schools. But we have more than three million adults who do not have a full high school education. Most of those adults wouldn't want to return to school. Many high school dropouts, and even grammar school dropouts, have gone on to make a good living."

Charges filed

Larry D. Rutledge, 22, of Box 129, Villa Ridge, Mo., was arrested this week at the West Pontoon Road railroad tracks and charged with criminal trespass, unlawful possession of a weapon, criminal damage to property and intoxication.

The charges allegedly stemmed from an incident in the 4500 block of Kirkpatrick Homes, occurring a short time before Rutledge's arrest, when police were informed that a man was breaking out the headlights on a white convertible parked there, belonging to Mary C. Valle, 4310 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Officers said four headlights and the parking lenses were smashed on the auto. Upon receiving a description of the man and the vehicle he was driving, police halted Rutledge, who was later identified by a witness to the incident, according to police.

Police reportedly confiscated a sawed-off ax handle with a cord through the handle and a locking blade knife from Rutledge.

3 injured in car accident

Mrs. Martha Wallace, 24, of 2440 Terminal Ave., was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital during the weekend for pains in the shoulders and back which was said resulted from an auto accident. A series of x-rays was taken and she was released.

Two children listed at the same address, who were tumbled to the floor of the auto in the mishap, also were treated and released. Mark Wallace, 8, sustained abrasions to the right knee and back and Kip Wallace, 3, struck the right side of his face.

"But more adults are ready and willing to return to school now than ever before."

"There wouldn't be enough of them to flood our facilities. But there would be enough to strengthen our educational system and make a better Illinois," Howlett said.

"When unemployment is high, the educated person is more likely to find a job than an uneducated one. The more highly educated a person is, the more the person is likely to earn."

"In this Bicentennial year of our nation, we have the best educated, best informed generation of young people in all history. But we still have a serious illiteracy problem."

"Census figures indicate illiteracy in the United States was cut in half between 1960 and 1970. But why should we have any illiteracy at all?"

"Many public aid recipients of Illinois are migrants from other states who were never educated properly as children. If we could teach them to read and write well enough to hold a job, we could break the poverty cycle."

"School attendance is no guarantee of reading and writing skill. Some children go to school because they have to. Adults go to school because they want to."

"Just this week, a Chicago school superintendent announced he would be tough this year on eighth graders who want to graduate. He won't let them unless they can read at a sixth grade level or better."

"New migrants to Illinois from other countries are finding a language barrier that only education can help solve. In public telephone booths now, instructors for using the phone are published in Spanish as well as English."

"We have programs for Americanizing newcomers, for cutting down illiteracy, for educating public aid recipients to become self-supporting. 'As we move toward full funding of the state formula for aid to the common schools, we should move likewise for stronger emphasis on adult education."

"When we educate the adult, we also help the school educate the child. Education begins in the home. The child of an educated parent is easier to teach in school."

"Education is the first priority of Illinois state government. It is up to all of us to enforce the promise of our Constitution for 'educational development of all persons to the limits of their capacities.'"

REV. LEROY BIESENTHAL

The Rev. Leroy Biesenthal of St. Louis will be the guest speaker at the sunrise services at 7 a.m. Sunday at the Wilson Park ice rink, sponsored by the Granite City Lutheran Bureau. His sermon, based on Romans 4:25, will be "The Joy of Easter, Jesus Lives." Rev. Biesenthal is the director of stewardship and evangelism for the Missouri District of the Lutheran Church Missouri Synod.

He is frequent director of Kennedy Evangelism Clinics for the students at Concordia Seminary, in St. Louis and Springfield, Ill., as well as for pastors around the country. In his position with the Missouri District he encourages stewardship and evangelism in the lives of 280 Lutheran congregations in Missouri. The congregation will be accompanied in its Easter hymn singing by a brass choir directed by John T. Severino Jr. Pastor Samuel Boda of St. John Lutheran Church will be the liturgist and worship leader. The Lutheran Bureau is made up of delegates from St. John's Lutheran, Hope Lutheran and Concordia Lutheran, all of Granite City.

First birthday of Michael K. Lemp

Michael Kevin Lemp, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Lemp, celebrated his first birthday at a family party given by his parents in their home, 3138 Nameoki Road.

A clown theme was used in the table appointments with a cake frosted with Charlie Brown and Snoopy characters. Those attending were paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Ann Lemp; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James P. Lemp and family; maternal grandmother Mrs. Betty Bellman and Carolyn Bellman and son Brian, Mr. and Mrs. George Lemp, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lemp and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lemp and family, Robbie and Marcella Lemp, Paul Dow and Larry Harper.

Third Baptist Easter musical

"Resurrection Sing" will be the title of the special Easter music service at Third Baptist Church, 2601 Grand Ave., Sunday, at 6:30 p.m.

All of the choirs of the church will offer a musical selection with the "Winds" opening with "He is Alive!" from the musical "Celebrate Life." The young musicians will perform Buryl Red's "All Things Bright and Beautiful" with a percussion and rhythm group accompaniment.

Bach's "Jesus," which has been arranged with other traditional hymns about the name of Jesus by Otis Skillings, will be sung by the combined Youth and Church Choirs. Charity, a high school girl's ensemble, will be featured on the popular gospel hit, "Put Your Hand in the Hand."

Also programmed will be "This Little Light of Mine" for adult and children's choirs by Rick Powell. A combination of the Music Makers, Youth and Church Choirs will present the arrangement.

Traditional as well as contemporary Easter hymns have been chosen for the congregational singing such as "Were You There," "Because He Lives," "Up from the Grave He Arose" and "Christ the Lord Is Risen Today."

Highlighting the morning service at 10:40 a.m. will be the Church Choir singing the Jester Hailston Spiritual "Angels Rolled De Stone Away" and the "Winds" performing "Because He Lives" by Bill Gaither with piano, trumpets, drums and bass guitar. There also will be an organ and piano duet of the popular sacred song "Morning Has Broken."

The pastor, Roy Johnson, and Minister of Music John Nading, have invited the public to attend and participate in these Easter celebration services.

RELIGIOUS VICTORY

The Episcopal Party in Scotland on Aug. 27, 1616, won a victory when James VI's five articles of religion introducing Anglican principles into the church were accepted by Scotland's General Assembly of the church.

St. Peter's Easter services

Lilies and other spring plants will surround the altar on Easter morning to celebrate the Festival of the Resurrection at the 10:15 a.m. worship service at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 21st Street and Cleveland Boulevard.

A large wooden cross behind the altar will also be decorated with lilies to symbolize the gift of eternal life as made manifest through the resurrection of Jesus Christ. Mrs. Marie Whittle, assisted by Walmer Brummer, Mrs. Joyce Doran, Mrs. Dorothy Miller and Mrs. Esther Baumbarger are in charge of the altar arrangements. The lilies are donations from members of the congregation.

The Rev. Robert L. Kettelhut's Easter sermon topic will be "The Profile of Love." The Chancel Choir under the direction of Robert Hutcheson, organist-choirmaster, will sing "Christ Arose" by John W. Peterson and "The Year of Jubilee Is Come" by Noel Goemanne.

The Handbell Choir will play "The Faithful and the Strain," arranged by Paul E. Koch. During the worship each child will be given a special remembrance of the day by the pastor.

Following the service, a brief Communion Service will be held in the church. Elders Orville Ganz, Leonard Anderson, Emil Mueller and Walmer Brummer will serve at the altar.

At 9 a.m. the church school pupils, their parents and friends will meet in Fellowship Hall for their Easter program under the direction of Mrs. Dorothy Kinnery, church school superintendent. Participants, representing five of the earliest Christian churches, will make banners and share the Easter story concluding in a celebration of praise and joy. Rev. Kettelhut said.

At 6:30 a.m. the Youth Fellowships of St. Peter and St. Paul's church on Bluff Road in Edwardsville will sponsor a Sunrise Service and breakfast at the Edwardsville church. Weather permitting the service will be outdoors. The youth under the leadership of Carl Peizer, student associate at St. Peter, have planned and prepared this traditional service. Reservations are not needed for breakfast. A freewill offering will be taken to defray the cost.

Those without a church home are invited to attend the Easter Services at St. Peter Church. Ample parking is available in the lot adjacent to the church. Banners will be on hand to assist the handicapped. Child care is provided both at the 9 a.m. church school program and the 10:15 a.m. worship service, the minister said.

St. John United Services

St. John United Church of Christ, 2601 Nameoki Road, will observe Maundy Thursday with an inspirational ten-hour candlelight communion service, in which the betrayals and denials of Christ will be dramatized by the extinguishing of the lights from the candles, according to the Rev. Dr. Paul Surber.

Associate minister the Rev. Carl Eschenbrenner will deliver the evening message entitled, "My Own Denials and Betrayals," and the Chancel choir will sing the anthem, "Go to Dark Gethsemane" by Noble. Following the communion service the congregation will leave the sanctuary in meditative silence.

Three identical Easter services will be conducted at 7:30 a.m., 9 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. The 21 members of the confirmation class will partake of their first Holy Communion at the 10:30 service.

All three services will begin with the organist, Mrs. Irene Barrick Rapp, playing "Song of Triumph" by Mueller as the opening prelude. The Junior Choir will sing the Easter anthem, "In Joseph's Lovely Garden" by Dickinson and the Chancel Choir will present the anthem, "King of Kings" by Simper.

The Secret of New Life and New Joy" is the topic of the Easter message, the Rev. Surber reported. He added open communion will be celebrated at all three services.

Nu Zeta plans May car wash

A car wash project from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on May 15 at Terry's Service Station, costing $1.50 per car, was planned last week by the Nu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Miss Emily Farnbach hosted the meeting and Mrs. Linda McKeehan, president, presided. Plans also were finalized for Founder's Day and Mother's Day events. Also discussed was the agenda at a convention held in Centuria last weekend.

Those present included Cheryl Barton, Shari Smith, Carol Moerlein, Sharon Case and a guest, Cathy Farnbach. A dessert course was served by the hostess. The next gathering will be in the home of Judy Haven, 3205 Kilarney Ave.

Holy services at Briarcliff

Briarcliff Pentecostal Church, 1120 West Pontoon Road, will hold 7:30 p.m. services Friday and a 6 a.m. sunrise service on Easter Sunday, followed by a fellowship breakfast at 7:15, the Rev. Wayne Miller announced.

The Rev. Miller said the congregation plan to break previous Easter attendance records, and he will present a slide program on a recent trip to Jerusalem on Sunday night at 7. An afterglow revival service program is scheduled to begin Tuesday, April 20, through Sunday, April 25, featuring evangelist David Sizemore from Cincinnati, Ohio. He will deliver services each evening at 7:30 and is noted as an outstanding minister and musician, Rev. Miller reported.

A Long Distance phone call that costs you one dollar during the daytime...

costs just 65¢ in the evening after 5 p.m....

and only 40¢ on the weekend before 5 p.m. Sunday.

Surprising how you can cut the cost of Long Distance to any other state in the U.S. by dialing direct during bargain calling times. For instance, you save more than one-third when you call after 5 p.m. on weekdays. And more than one-half on the weekend—anytime Saturday or before 5 p.m. Sunday. Isn't that worth waiting for?

Discounts apply to total charges on Direct-Dial calls, but only to additional minute charges on Operator-assisted calls. Direct-Dial rates do not apply to coin, hotel-guest, hospital patient, credit card, collect or person-to-person calls, or to calls charged to another number, because an Operator must be involved with such calls. They do apply to calls placed with an Operator from a residence or business phone where Direct-Dial facilities are not available. Discounts to Alaska and Hawaii are one-quarter off after 5 p.m. on weekdays and one-half off on the weekend—anytime Saturday or before 5 p.m. Sunday.

Appeals Board recommends four special use permits

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended the granting of four special use permits and the denial of another, all in Quad-City area townships.

The recommendations will be acted upon by the Madison County Board at its regular meeting later this month.

The zoning board is recommending the granting of two special use permits to Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Blum, one to establish and operate a cafe at 2032 Alton Ave., in the Cloverleaf Subdivision, and the other to continue to use the rooms in the rear for apartments.

The property is in an R-4 single family residential district of Nameoki Township.

Recommended stipulations are that no alcoholic beverages are to be served or present at the cafe and that there not be any expansion of the apartments.

Also recommended for approval is the request of Kenneth and Mary Ann Hodge for a permit to replace an existing mobile home at 4208 Division St., with a 14 by 70 foot unit. The present unit is there by authority of a three-year permit granted two years ago.

The property is in an R-3 single family residential district of Nameoki Township. Suggested stipulations are that the permit be granted for up to five years and be limited to the sole occupancy of the Kenneth Hodge family.

The other request recommended for approval is that of Ulys and Alice Houltz for a permit to continue the placement of a mobile home at 205 Harrison Street in Eagle Park Acres. A previous five-year permit is expiring and the zoning board recommends a new permit be granted for up to five years and for the sole occupancy of the Alice Houltz family.

The property is in an R-4 district of Venice Township.

The zoning board recommends the County Board deny a permit to place a mobile home at 2542 Highway 3, on Missouri Avenue adjacent to the Granite City limits, which would be used for a watchman and caretaker for the business at that location.

The property is in an R-3 district of Venice Township.

It was noted that a request by Vincent Geromino for a permit at a day care home has been withdrawn. A public hearing on that request was cancelled at the request of Geromino.

Campus Mother's Day will be observed April 24 at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign with a three-day weekend of activities.

A center of these activities will be the UIUC Mothers Association, founded in 1953, which functions year-around. Its county chairwomen include, for Madison County, Mrs. John Klesh, 307 Riviera Drive, Granite City, Mrs. Ronald Achenbach and Mrs. James Grisolan, both of Collinsville, Mrs. Russell Albert, New Douglas, Mrs. Richard Hardy, Edwardsville, and Mrs. Jerry Whitrow, Alton.

At a banquet April 23, the 12th Mothers Association medalion of honor will be presented to an outstanding woman.

On Saturday, April 24, at 9 a.m., a coffee hour will be held in the Illinois Rooms of the Illinois Union. At 10 a.m. in the same rooms, the Mothers Association will hold its annual meeting.

An hour-long "quad party" at 11 a.m. will feature the UIUC Medicare diexial meal group. It will be held south of the Illinois Union on the Anniversary Plaza, a gift to the university from the Mothers Association on its 50th anniversary.

At 1 p.m. on the campus quadrangle, the UIUC fire department will demonstrate a Lifesafe safety bag purchased by the university with a $2,000 gift from the Mothers Association and the balance from housing funds.

This device, which was demonstrated at the university last fall, provides a safe landing for persons forced to jump from upper stories of a building.

The Friday dinner, Saturday meeting and all other events are open to all mothers and also to fathers and students.

Activities for the weekend begin Friday, April 23, with the Honors Convocation of the UIUC College of Engineering. Military honors ceremonies, with awards to cadets and noncommissioned Army, Naval and Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps, will be held later that day.

UIUC students are planning many events, including concerts and style and flower shows for the weekend.

A discussion on priority needs in Nameoki Township was held at which many of the precinct committeemen and their assistants present said they feel the high water table in this area is the most pressing problem and one for which an immediate solution should be sought.

Items and debris should be placed in boxes or plastic bags and left in the alley at the rear of the property, Varadan said. Anything too heavy or bulky

Special film at Y Wednesday

A special film presentation, "The Transcendental Meditation Program in the World of Baseball," will be shown Wednesday, April 21, at 8 p.m. at the Tri-City YMCA auditorium.

The film presents an in-depth look at the world of professional athletes both on and off the field. Highlights include interviews with many top professional players such as Ted Simmons of the Cardinals, Steve Carlton and Larry Bowa of the Phillies, who relate how the Transcendental Meditation technique has improved their athletic ability as well as their character, according to Bill Ryan, one of the TM program instructors.

About 20 per cent of major league baseball players practice the TM technique along with top athletes in nearly all professional sports including football, tennis, basketball, track and field, swimming, and diving, Ryan said.

A winning athlete, under pressure not only to win, but also to react in split-second time, must be in top physical condition and in top mental and psychological condition, the instructor said, adding that "Athletes are people just like everyone else and should also be able to handle situations off the playing field in everyday life."

The TM technique improves the athlete in all these areas at once by dissolving the stress, tension, and fatigue which slow down reaction time, reduce concentration, and limit endurance, Ryan said.

Scientific studies have indicated that the TM program enhances speed, coordination, endurance and perception. When the mind is clear and strong it can direct the body's action quickly, efficiently, and accurately, the instructor said.

Wednesday's film presentation is free and all are invited to attend. A teacher of the TM program, Ryan, will be on hand to answer all questions and conduct the presentation. Teachers of the TM program are Nicholas Good, Ryan and Claudine Cline.

Area contributes to aluminum recycling

Through the first three months of 1976, aluminum recyclers have turned in the equivalent of more than 36,000 all-aluminum beverage cans at the Nameoki Village Shopping Center.

Residents of the area earned more than $170 for their efforts, which also helped reduce litter and conserve energy. Recycling of the metal requires only five per cent of the energy needed to make original aluminum.

Persons who wish to save aluminum may redeem it when the Reynolds Aluminum mobile unit stops at Nameoki Village on the second and fourth Saturdays of each month, from noon to 3 p.m.

Reynolds pays 15 cents per pound for aluminum cans and other clean household aluminum such as foil, pie pans, frozen food and dinner trays, dip and pudding and meat containers. Certain other types of clean, all-aluminum items may be redeemed at a lower price.

Clifford W. Pool, manager of the Reynolds recycling plant in Belleville, said collections so far in 1976 are comparable to the pace set in 1975, when the St. Louis area recycled more than a million pounds of aluminum, or 23 million cans, with the public being paid in excess of $152,000.

Postmasters in warning against chain letters

Fraudulent chain letters have been around for many years, but odds are better now that you may receive one, this time with a Bicentennial theme, according to a statement by the postmasters of the Quad-Cities. "A scheme, which involves the mailing of U.S. Savings Bonds, has shown up in major urban centers of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Maryland, Virginia and Florida," the statement said. "The letter with the Bicentennial Gimmick urges those receiving it to mail $2 - $1 for each 100 years - to the person whose name is first on the list in celebration of the nation's 200th birthday," it asserted.

"Chief Postal Inspector C. Neil Benson has informed us that actual profits from chain letters are usually obtained only by those who originate or enter the scheme very early," according to the statement by Postmasters Herbert Backs of Granite City, William Clinton of Madison and William Singleton of Venice.

Chain letters requesting money or other items of value are non-mailable under the Federal Mail Fraud Statute. They are considered to be fraudulent because of the likelihood that the chain will be broken and most participants will get nothing from their involvement. Typically, the chain letter requires each of its recipients to sell or mail copies to a specified number of others, who would also be asked to continue the chain of mailings. Usually, the chain expands so rapidly that the number of prospects is soon exhausted, the postmasters said.

For example, a chain letter requiring each purchaser to send copies to six others would theoretically reach the entire literate population of the earth by the time it reached its 12th link.

The fact that chain letters are not mailed does not exclude the scheme from being a violation of law if the scheme involves the mailing of bonds or other valuable items, it was explained.

On the other hand, so-called chain letters which call for nothing more than recipes, picture post cards and the like, are ordinarily considered to be mailable because the items sent do not constitute a "thing of value" under applicable law. However, postal cards involving "good luck" chain prayers that contain a threat of bad luck to those who break the chain are prohibited because it is against the law to place threatening matter on the outside of mail.

The postmasters cautioned the public to be especially alert for numerous current chain letters which contain a claim that they have been reviewed by some legal authority and officially approved for mailing. "This is not true," they said, "and we would appreciate having all chain letters received in this area promptly turned over to us or postal inspectors so that we can help protect the public from this illegal activity."

SINGING CHORUS. Third and fourth grade pupils at St. Elizabeth Catholic School sing a selection of songs in the Bicentennial observance held at the church. Following the theme, "America Defined," a total of 250 students participated in the evening performance.

St. Elizabeth pupils mark 200th year

A Bicentennial program was presented last week by 250 students of St. Elizabeth Catholic School at the church in an evening performance. "America Defined" was the theme of the musical program.

Michelle Meehan served as narrator for the presentation, which opened with the student body singing, "America the Beautiful," "I Like It Here" and "Star Spangled Banner." First and second grade pupils sang "Fifty Nifty United States," and Debbie and Sue Burnett, Lynda Loftus, Christina Kessler, Jean Drystons and Wendy McIlvoy sang "America."

The third and fourth grade students presented "I Am An American" and "This Land Is Your Land," followed by violin selections by Richard, Troy, Pete and Angela Moore. Their presentation featured the "Caisson Song," "Marine Hymn" and "Long, Long Ago." "Where in the World," "They Call It America" and "This is a Great Country" were among the songs sung by the fifth and sixth graders. John Sedej and Mrs. Jane Kozielek played "Stars and Stripes Forever" in a piano duet.

Seventh and eighth graders performed "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," a "George M. Cohan Medley," a drum solo by Bill Jones, "No Man is an Island" and "Stout Hearted Men." All students sang "Battle Hymn of the Republic" with David Buehrer playing a drum solo and Jean Diak singing "God Bless America." The recessional was "Stars and Stripes Forever," featuring Jack Burnett on the drums.

Free home insulation offered

Donald D. Patrick, counselor of the Pontoon Beach branch of Co-ordinated Youth Services, has announced that all retired disability, social security, public aid or low income persons or families living in the Nameoki Township-Pontoon Beach area, may have their home insulated free of charge. The program is under the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission, which is a federally funded program.

Supervising the program in this area is Lucy Ricks of the 200 office and a member of carpenters' Local 653. Ricks stated that the project consists of insulating the attic and weather stripping all windows and doors by a professional crew of five, completely free of charge.

Patrick said, "I think this is a great program for the retired and low income people. Better insulated homes also will help these people keep their fuel bills down in the winter and electric bills low in the summer, a time when we all need to save on energy. It also will reduce the possibility of illness in the winter."

"Anyone in the Nameoki Township-Pontoon Beach area who qualifies may contact our office at 901-2700 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Mondays through Fridays," Patrick explained.

VIOLIN SELECTION is performed by three brothers, Richard, Troy and Pete Moore and a sister, Angela Moore, at the Bicentennial program given by students at St. Elizabeth School. The event was attended by parents and other members of the parish.

Urban, regional studies program

The East St. Louis Center of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has become part of a new educational unit at the university designated as the Institute for Urban and Regional Studies, according to a report given to the SUIU Board of Trustees by SUIU Acting President Andrew J. Kochman.

Other units assigned to the newly formed Institute include the Center for Urban and Environmental Research and Services (CURERS) and the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center (DSYDC).

"As an integral part of this Institute, the East St. Louis Center and its related academic programs, in conjunction with CURERS and DSYDC, will enable the university to marshal a full spectrum of resources in the field of urban education and problem solving," the acting president said.

The mission of the Institute is threefold:

1. To provide a central university focus for interdisciplinary education, particularly as it relates to equipping students with the necessary skills for solving complex contemporary problems.
2. To provide a center for multidisciplinary interaction among students, faculty and community representatives.
3. To foster and encourage problem-oriented research and public service.

Law Day theme—200 years of liberty, law

The 19th annual observance of Law Day, U.S.A., will be held on May 1, 1976, by proclamation of the President.

In Illinois, virtually every county bar association and the Illinois State Bar Association are planning public activities—ranging from legal discussions for audiences in schools, civic organizations and living centers for older Americans, to a swearing-in ceremony for naturalized citizens in Chicago and a statewide Law Day luncheon for lawyers in Springfield.

The theme for Law Day, 1976, is "200 Years of Liberty and Law."

It is considered appropriate on the occasion of the dual observances this year—of Law Day and the nation's Bicentennial—that every citizen "reflect on the role of law in safeguarding individual rights."

The body of laws set forth by America's founders was designed to last, grow and adjust with the changing times, the Illinois State Bar Association Law Day chairman, Richard Mills, comments.

He has urged all members to participate in Law Day programs encouraging citizens to reflect on the legal heritage and to understand the system of laws as the nation's third century begins.

In proclaiming Saturday, May 1, as Law Day, President Gerald R. Ford said: "Liberty is the hallmark of the American experience—liberty from the tyranny of foreign domination and liberty from tyranny at home."

"To ensure our domestic liberty, based on our faith that all men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, the Constitution of the United States of America guarantees certain rights and privileges to every citizen."

"Among those are: freedom of speech, freedom of press, freedom of religion, the right to assembly and petition, and the right to due process of law."

Now, therefore, I, Gerald R. Ford, President of the United States of America, invite the American people to celebrate Saturday, May 1, 1976, as Law Day, U.S.A., and to mark its observance with programs and ceremonies as befits our great heritage of 200 years of liberty and law."

Pre-schooler registration set April 20

Pre-school registration will begin at 9 a.m. on Tuesday, April 20, at the Wilson Park office, for children who will be 4 years old before June 1, according to Harold Brown, park superintendent.

Parents registering the children are to bring proof of residence in the park district and those who reside outside the park boundaries will be placed on a waiting list in the order they register, if there should be any openings.

Classes are held two days a week at the Namooki Recreation Center, Amos and Franklin avenues. There is no charge for the class with the exception of required insurance and 25 cents a day to cover the cost of juice and cookies served at each session, the superintendent reports.

GC to demolish downtown building

Granite City has called bids for a 4 p.m. April 19 on proposals to raze the two-story, brick building on the southwest corner of Delmar Avenue and Nineteenth Street that was damaged Aug. 13, 1975, in a fire that gutted the Dorian Bridal Shop next door.

The bids will be received in the office of City Clerk Robert Stevens until 4 p.m. next Monday. Bids will entail cost proposals for demolishing the building and backfilling all hollow areas under the sidewalks on Nineteenth Street.

The building was decided to the city by the owners following the fire. City officials are studying a plan to use the area for a parking lot.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTENT TO PERFORM
FLOOD ELEVATION STUDY
FOR MADISON COUNTY, ILLINOIS
(UNINCORPORATED AREAS)

The Federal Insurance Administration of the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development announced today that under authority of the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended (P.L. 92-448), and the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), it will fund a detailed study of the flood hazard areas in Madison County, Illinois, (unincorporated areas).

The study will be performed for the Federal Insurance Administration by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, St. Louis District, St. Louis, Missouri.

The purpose of this study is to examine and evaluate the flood hazard areas in the county which are developed, or which are likely to be developed, and to determine flood elevations for those areas. Flood elevations will be used by the county to carry out the flood plain management objectives of the National Flood Insurance Program. They will also be used as the basis for determining the appropriate flood insurance premium rates applicable for new buildings and their contents, as well as determining the rates to be used for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

This announcement is intended to notify all interested persons of the commencement of this study so they may have an opportunity of a public hearing, to be announced later, to bring any relevant facts and technical data concerning local flood hazards to the attention of the Chief Executive Officer of the community for forwarding to the appropriate representatives of the Federal Insurance Administration.

Expand SIUE alumni drive

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is celebrating its first decade. And as part of celebrating the university's 10 years of growth, the SIUE Alumni Association through the SIUE Foundation is making plans for future SIUE growth by means of the Association's annual alumni fund drive.

President Donald L. Kraushaar, in a message to SIUE alumni, said, "While the university is celebrating its tenth year on the local campus, we are just entering our fourth year as a separate institution serving the alumni of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville."

"I am gratified by the response alumni have made to the annual fund campaigns," he added. "On the whole, we have young group but we have responded to the increased needs as reflected in the declining support from the state."

Kraushaar went on to say that because of the generosity of SIUE alumni, the association has been able to help many students continue their education.

In another message, Foundation President Harold R. Fischer of Granite City emphasized, "Recently, a friend remarked that he had never realized how many alumni gifts mean to a state university."

As the Foundation begins its third annual fund drive, Fischer said, the organization hopes to exceed the 1975 total of 1,658 donors with at least 1,000 alumni donors in 1976.

According to Greg Klaus, program manager for the alumni fund drive and currently a student worker in the Foundation office, 1975 donations amounted to $5,001.

Last year was only the second year the SIUE Foundation assisted with the fund drive and Klaus said, "It was a considerable improvement over 1974's $5,044 total."

He said the fund drive's program schedule for 1976 includes sending "thank you" along with a pocket calendar booklet; mailing a letter and brochure to all alumni and a special letter to 1975 donors; mailing a letter to all Century Club members (donors of gifts between $100 and $1,000); sending a September card reminder; and a November telephone-calling each alumnus by phone.
